Enriched Enhancement programs at Madoc Public School

by W. Brice McVicar

The Madoc School Council has officially launched the Enriched Enhancement Programs at school and are hoping to see more programs start in the future

Mark Lucas, Communications Officer, said, "It's an initiative of the school council and it came about because there are certain kids who achieve above the standard level of the cur-riculum. Lucas explained these kids will become

Mitz savs recycling could be better

by W. Brice McVicar

Quinte residents are good recyclers but Centre Hastings percentage should be better according to Councillor Larry Mitz.

While approving minutes from various boards at the October council meet-ing Mitz told council Centre Hastings should be putting more stuff in their blue boxes and less in garbage bags.
"We in this area have been mentioned as best in Ontario for recycling and it's a real feather in our hat," Mitz stated. "Somebody in that region has to be the poorest and it happens to be is. Within Centre and South Hastings we are the poorest for recycling and it was commented upon that we are the only municipality that doesn't have bag tags." Mitz said he didn't feel Centre Hastings should panic over this and go to the bag tag system but he did

The idea behind the new program was to meet the needs of the over-achievers and the under-achievers so that there is something offered at the school beyond the regular curriculum.

"We're trying to provide something in addition to the regular curriculum, said. Lucas also explained the school council became involved because there used to be a program of this na-ture offered called I.E.P. but with funding cut-backs the was slashed program was slashed Council felt that rather than have the void they could start their own program.

With diminishing resources more and more teachers are being asked to do more with less and we just found it wasn't in the best interest of those who don't fit into the average definition of a student. Un-fortunately, the under-achievers and the over-achievers were being shortachievers were tering short-changed so we wanted to provide something to keep the stimulation and enhance and enriching their learn-ing experience. There are currently two programs being offered, an advanced math program being run by Principal Murray Spencer and a photography class being taught Gail Floyd. The classes are taught during regular school hours because, as Lucas pointed out, over half of the school's population are bus students. Car and bus collide on Highway 62:At approximately 3:40 p.m. on October 28th members of the Centre Hastings detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police were dispatched to the scene of a motor vehicle collision that occurred on Highway 62 just north of Madoc. Police investigation revealed that a southbound car driven by 42 year north of Madoc. Police investigation revealed that a sontinonina car arriven by 4.2 year old Rosamor Wilson of Bancroft crossed the centre line and struck a northbound school bus driven by Valerie McKim of Marmora. The school bus was loaded at the time but there were no injuries reported by the passengers. The driver of the car was taken to Belleville General Hospital with non-life threatening injuries. The cause of the accident is still under investigation. Photo By W. Brice McVicar

Support for local businesses is available

by W. Brice McVicar

There's help to be had for small businesses in North Hastines thanks to the North Hastings Community Economic Develop-ment Corporation.

At the October 27th Cen-

Reeve Tom Deline welcomed Cloes to the meeting and pointed out some local firms have already received assistance from the Corporation and added it's nice that council is aware of what they can do for local firms.

Cloes explained he is the brand new general manager and has held the position since September 1st He said he has been involved in community development for about 25 years, he was inteering a great deal "finally I started getand "finally ting paid for community development and we've had e success in the area I am from, I have had some success with the Ministry of Agriculture and Food and the Ministry of Municipal Affairs." by Jennifer Alexander and Chloe Smith

On Thursday, October 21st, ten enthusiastic students headed off to the an-nual CAVEAT (Canadians Against Violence Everywhere Advocating its Termination) workshop at the Alliance Church in Belleville. Once there, students from many area schools were able to listen to Dr. Craig, as she told a sad tale bullying and what the effects are later on in life ater on in the day students chose two workshops each with a variety of different subjects. Lunch and snacks were provided by many different sponsors It was ex-tremely successful and everyone enjoyed the educational experience This past week has been Halloween Howl at CHSS! On Monday students enjoyed a round of strobe light volleyball and whipped cream scream! Several other events were being planned for later on in the week such as bobbing for apples, mummy wrap, pumpkin carving and the famous haunted house! There was also a costume day held on Friday and the results were as follows: in the staff section Mr. Lee won for best individual dressed up as Drew Carey. Madame Beer for the cutest dressed as the Pillsbury Dough Boy and Mr. Brogee for the scariest costume. In the Junior section Angela Foster won for best indi vidual, scariest went to Woodcock, Jesse Conv Edwards and Junette Cobk for their Scream impersona-tion and Amber Smith won for cutest as a lady bug. On November 25th midterm report eards will be sent home for parent signatures Also, this november some teachers will be dealing with the new and improved report card for this vear's grade nine students So, keep your eye out for your son or daughter's report card!

Also, a huge congratula-tions and applaud go out to Brian Beatty. Brian competed last week in the COSSA cross-country run and qualified for OFSAA. Good luck Brian!

Marmora man arrested for Sexual Assault

A Marmora man faces multiple charges following an incident which took place on Tuesday afternoon.

Centre Hastings OPP were called to a Marmora

Village residence on October 2 after a man was reported to be threatening the occupants of the residence.

The male adult, who was at the time on an undertaking with conditions, had sexually assaulted a female occupant of the home earlier in the day. He later returned and threatened to burn down the residence.

Charged with Sexual Assault, three counts of Utter-ing Threats, and two counts of Complying With An Undertaking is 21-year-old William Barton. Barton was known to the victims.

He held for a bail hearing on February 3 in Belleville. The victims' names were not released.

Tales from Shiloh Farm

by Chris Bertelsen

I am saddened and angered by the disturbing trend of the various medical professional associations and individual members carrying on campaigns of debunking naturopathy, ho-meopathy as well as other alternative medical practices. These attacks are simi lar to the ones they mounted against the chiropractic pro-fession for years. They lost that campaign when people voted with their feet and the American Medical Association was found guilty of conspiracy against the chiropractic profession. And they are losing this new one as well but refuse to admit it, choosing instead to protect their income and power A couple of examples to

An editorial in the Cana dian Journal of Health and Nutrition quoted Dr. Barry Beyerstein of New York. He told doctors at a conference in Philadelphia (Science Meets Alternative Medicine) "alternative medicine is part of a whole new set on New Age beliefs based on a subjective view of reality .... even intelligent, well educated individuals are guilty of this." Interest-ing. I thought all reality was subjective. And I suppose the refusal of the medical establishment to incorporate preventing medicine (such as nutrition) and even proven alternative practices into their regimen is not subjective. Just take a look at the lack of nutritional knowledge in the current curriculum programs of doctors. And, of course, there is the ongoing persecution in the courts of Dr. Krop who practices environmental medicine using, among other things, nutritional supplements. Dr. Wallace Sampson, professor of medicine at Stanford University, assured his international audience at the same conference that "most people think (alternative) medicine is junk. Intellectually, most of the US and Canada do not accept the alternative medi-

This is objective? I suppose the $5 billion spent on herbal medicine by US customers alone and the many more billions on other alternative practices is a myth. The reality of this has not escaped the pharmaceuti-cal industry which is busy carrying out a strategy of 'if you can't beat them join hem' by stocking their them" shelves with herbs and nutritional supplements and giving their staff crash courses to help sell them.

I believe that a large problem with our medical profession is that they are greatly influenced by the multinational pharmaceutical industry. We already have ample proof of that with Health Canada.

Citizens settle Dombind dispute

Ontario's Environmental Appeal Board approved a settlement on October 21st reached among citizens, the Ministry of the Environ-ment and Norampac Inc. that will provide strict limits on the application of Dombind dust suppressant, a waste from the compa-ny's Trenton mill. The approval follows an extraordinary decision released in August whereby the Appeal Board granted the Federa-tion of Ontario Naturalists, the Federation of Ontario Cottagers' Associations. Quinte Watershed Cleanup and seven individuals the right to appeal a Ministry order served on Norampac. The Appeal Board had found that the weaknesses of the order's provisions relating to the application of Dombind were "very se-rious" and allowed the concerned groups and individu-als to proceed with an ap-

Once the appeal right was granted, all sides came together to discuss a settlement. The settlement, which is implemented through a binding order issued by the Appeal Board, includes far better environmental protection provisions than the original MOE order that the Board found deficient.

This is a significant victory for the citizens group

we represent," said Jerry DeMarco, staff lawyer with the Sierra Legal Defence Fund, whose legal team rep-resented the three groups and seven individual residents of Hastings and Prince Edward Counties who sought to appeal the Dombind order under Ontario's Environmental Bill of Rights (EBR).

We are delighted with the Board's approval of our proposed settlement - this is a huge improvement for the environment and for people over the ordinary originally issued by the Minis-try, said Ric Symmes, Executive Director of the Federation of Ontario Natural-

Citizens and municipalities across Eastern Ontario have raised concerns about Dombind's toxicity. They have argued that Norampac should, like its competitors, install environmentally anpropriate waste treatment technology at the Trenton mill, instead of spreading the liquid waste on rural roads. The amended MOE order approved provides better environmental protection for waterways and wells, requires the production of publicly-available maps where Dombind may be spread prior to its use and includes better enforcement measures. All these changes will help reduce the risks of Dombind use until its phase-out is com-plete in less than two years.

The appeal board has confirmed the validity of the applicants' concerns about the MOE order and approved the settlement to nd its key provisions, said DeMarco DeMarco also noted that the board seldom grants requests for leave to appeal under the

'From the moment we were granted the right to appeal, we indicated that a r hearing was not needed to fix the order. I am very happy that we not only neved the desired result, but without the need for a lengthy and costly hearing.

The organizations and individual citizens involved in the appeal will closely monitor both Norampac's adherence to the deadlines for Dombind phase-out in the MOE order and municipalities' adherence to the rules for applying Dombind in the interim

Children's Aid seeing more children in their care

During a recent Board meeting, the Children's Aid reported a signicant increase in the number of children they service.

'Just looking at the numbers this year, the number of requests for services coming in the front door new requests coming into us have increased by 174 percent, 'said Ross Wagner, temporary Administrator at the Belleville CAS office 'After hours calls that come to the agency during the

venings and weekends. they're up 27 percent " By regions, South Cen tral Hastings has seen a small but significant increase of 13 percent, noted Wagner.

There have been 316 cases reported as opposed to 279 last year," said Wagner pointing out that these statistics are only up September

He added that there was no one area "running wild with child abuse cases and feels the increases are being reflected throughou

roadways to indicate where Dombind may be applied

Your readers may be interested to know that much stricter rules now exist for using Dombind (liquid industrial waste from the Norampac mill in Trenton) on rural roads. This is a result of negotiations among the Ministry of the Environment, Norampac Inc. and citizens' groups like ours. As a result of the nego tiations, Dombind cannot be applied until the areas where it may be spread have been marked by the municipality on a large-scale map of that road network. This is to ensure that Dombind is not applied closer than 50 me-The map must be available at the municipal office for anyone to view at least one week before and Dombind application.

A municipality must also

The Federation on Ontario Naturalists believes these new rules will better protect both the environment and human health while Dombind applications are still allowed. We look forward to the end of next year when Dombind spreading is supposed to be completely stopped.

'I think (child abuse) is something that's happening across the province so it's not unique to Hastings County by any stretch, 'said Wagner. "On a province-wide-basis, the number of investigations and assess-ments, there's an 11 per-cent growth over the past four years.

Wagner stated that the number of children actu ally removed from their parents is also up from 172 in 1998 to 195 in 1999

Provincially. number of kids in care has increased by 25 percent since 1994. So, again it's not something that is unique to Hastings County," said Wagner

Contributing factors
He attributed the augmented numbers to several

'Economics, social change and policy decisions which have come down re-cently that have put some stress on families," said Wagner, he gave the example of recent changes to the welfare program. "I think there are a lot of poor fami lies in this province and poverty brings stresses that ends up being shown in mistreatment of the chil-

Wagner emphasized that this does not mean that just because you are poor you will abuse your child.

Better tools

Wagner believes that changes in the way CAS policies and public aware-ness about child abuse are also related to the increase in service to children

We've been given tools called the Ontario Risk As-sessment Model which all agencies in Ontario now have a common way of doing business. So, we are now going out and investigating with a much finer tool than we've had in the past. We assess the risk of children and the safety of children in a much better and more sci-entific manner," said

It wasn't until the early 1900's that beating your wife was actually a crime You owned a wife and you owned children, they were chattels. We've come a long way in understanding not only that there can be physical violence, there's an dren are present when domestic violence is going on there is a terrible emotional price that children pay. I think that as history folding we are starting to understand more and more about how these actions affect children. Domestic violence we didn't even think of that in the 70's and 80's, this child has a black eye is this child in danger. We were going in in a very naive way looking at some surface things We'regetting better at look-ing deeper into the issues and as a result more is reportable and more comes out of our investigations, said Wagner. He added that the public is also beginning to report more cases of ne glect and abuse as well. A good start

According to Wagner steps are already being taken to deal with the high number of CAS cases.

"I've got to give some credit to the Ontario government, the Province has announced allocations of about $90 million over three years. Of course some of the $90 million is intended to give a boost to the system that they cut funds from un until 1992. It's restoring some of the cuts that hurt the Society significantly," said Wagner "But, in that said Wagner. "But, in that $90 million there are dollars to start agencies along the lines of looking at pre-ventative programs and trying to be a little more proactive to the problem rather than waiting until the child has been abused. So, it's a-start. Certainly On-tario needs to take better care of its children as does

Wagner feels the funding is a start for Ontario money is still not enough to cover the increase demand for service, good treatment and preventative programs It's a start, but it has a long way to go yet." Wagner

Specific programs

Wagner would like to see in the future include one for parenting, enhancing children's mental health, en-hancing adult mental health. anger management for parents

"If we good get some things like that, some really immediate response There are programs here but there are waiting lists, the response time is too long. We need something to immediately refer these people to, said Wagner nedi-

Cloes stressed that by doing this would give the corporation the ability to best serve the area

Reeve Define asked Cloes how many people they would like to have on their board.

At least one and a couple if they're really good," Cloes explained. "What we're looking for is something that is going to give us better strength as a board, give us broader experience and of course someone who knows the community because nobody knows this do. We're looking to enhance the skills on our board." Cloes added it is a volunteer board that meets once a month.

"We'll do some thinking about it," Deline said. "It'd be aice to get somebody from the business community involved."

Cloes explained to coun-cil they do have limited resources but can offer a list of grants and subsidiaries that are available from the federal and provincial gov-

"We're all in this together," Cloes added. "It shouldn't all be resting on Deline agreed it would be nice to have a representative on the board and added it is hard to fight a dying downtown with fires and empty store fronts "It's a constant battle, Deline noted.

Conference fosters creative talent

Budding young authors and illustrators from across Hastings and Prince Edward District School Board will be exercising their creative muscles at the Young Authors and Illustrators Conference on November 4th at Bridge Street United Church. The conference will be an enrichment opportunity for approximately 120 grades 6 and 7 students from the public school board

Students will have the opportunity to participate in two workshops led by pub-lished authors and illustrators. Seven authors will participate: Chris Jackson is the author and illustrator of the China Plate Series; Eric Walters is the author of eight award-winning young adult novels including Stand Your Ground, Stars and Trapped in Ice: Jan Andrews is a traditional storyteller and author who's titles include Keri, The Auction and Pumpkin Time: Richard Scrimger is the author of The Nose From Jupiter, Still Life With Children, and Crosstown; Diane Dawber will be at the conference with her illustrator, Pat Wilkinson; Rachna Gilmore is the author of a collection of short fiction and seven children's books; and George Swede has published 24 collections of poetry.

The day includes two workshops, a book fair and, finally, a gathering where students can share their ideas and creations

Centre Hastings Grizzlies Minor Hockey News

by Sherri Carman

Saturday, October 30th the Bantam AE Grizzlies hosted their home tourna-ment on Madoc ice. The day got underway with a match between our guys and the Tweed Hawks: The Grizzlies came out looking a little sluggish and Tweed got on the board twice in the first. Brian Coe posted one for the home team, in that period, assisted by Mike Stein and Brad Morton. In the second things got a little more interesting. Tweed managed to sneak one more in and that was the end of their scoring opportunities for the rest of this game. At 1:21 left in the period Brian Coe blistered another one in off the sticks of Brad Morton and Jeff Mumby. Twenty-one seconds later, Mike Stein tied up the game with help from Brad Morton and Scott Spencer. Grizzlies totally dominated third period action. Scott

Spencer was first to find the mark, assisted by Chris Sawiki Chris Sawiki came on strong and posted an unassisted goal. Centre Hastings got one more past Tweed's goalie, Kalo Jackson scored the point and Riley Andrews earned the assist Final count Grizzlies 6, Hawks 3

The second game for Centre Hastings in this four team, round robin tournament was against the King-ston Cougars. The wind got knocked out of the Grizzlies' sails in this match. The much stronger Kingston team won the game 4

They rallied back for their game with the Prince Edward County Kings. This game was the most exciting of the day, ending in a 1-1 tie. The lone Grizzly goal came at 4:35 in the second and was posted by Chris Sawiki, assisted by Riley Andrews and Jeff Mumby. The Kings finally got on the board with 2:00 left on the clock, forcing this one into overtime. There was two minutes left in the 5 minute sudden death period when P.E.C. won the game. Before the final championship games the players took part in a shoot-out. Two shooters and a goalie were selected from each team and got three shots on each opposing goalie. We saw some great goaltending and King ston came away on top; edg-ing out our own Josh

Johnston by one shot. The B Championship was played next and the Grizzlies found themselves. once again, up against Tweed. The Hawks scored early in the first but it didn't take long for Centre Hastings to get back on top. Before the end of the period they were ahead by a goal. Scott Spencer tapped the first between the pipes un-assisted and Greg Smith earned the second passed up by Riley Andrews and '

Mike Stein. Second period action belonged to the Grizzlies. Unassisted goals were posted by Luke Burnside and Mike Stein, a third was banged home by Kalo Jackson off the stick of Jeff Mumby Tweed did get on the board in the second but the period ended with our guys ahead 5-2. Each side got one third period goal, Chris Sawiki scored ours unassisted. This game ended the same as their first match-up, a 6-3 victory for the home team

The A Championship was P.E.C. versus Kingston. The Kings posted three goals in the first period of this game. The second was scoreless leaving P.E.C. still ahead by three. The final period was evenly matched with each team getting a point but it was a little too late for the Cougars and the Kings walked away with the A trophy.

Weekend Home Schedule: Friday, November 5th Madoc Arena Bantam AF

versus Tweed at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Marmora is a double header, at 8 p.m. the Peewee AE face Bancroftand then at 9:30 the midgets are against Percy Township Saturday the 6th, in Madoc. at 12 p.m. Novice DD versus Stirling and Atom DD's versus Tamworth at 2.30 p.m. On Sunday in Marmora action gets underway at 2:30. p.m. with Atom AE playing host to Ennismore then at 5 p.m. it's the Bantam AE versus Belleville

See va at the rink!

Grizzlies wrestle Kings: The Centre Hastings Bantam AF Grizzlies hosted a tournament on October 30th and one game they competed in was against the Prince Edward County Kings The two teams duked it out until the Kings woo in sudden death by a score of 2 to The Grizzlies, however, went on to became the B Champions of the tourny. ## Logos, beavers and promotion at council

by W. Brice McVicar

A letter received from the Ontario Tourism Marketing Partnership received a small amount of discussion at Centre Hastings council

The letter offered the Municipality the chance to be listed on the 1-800-Ontario consumer information service. By being listed the municipality is given the ability to present informa-tion on the area and can list accommodations, attractions, camping and other items that would be of interest to tourists.

It was pointed out that the service is mainly geared towards businesses and tourist operations but any exposure the area would receive would be good.

"I think we have to promote this community as many ways we can," Counmany ways we can," cillor Larry Mitz stated.

The cost of being in-cluded was $53.50 per year and council decided it would try it for one year to see how effective it could

A response was received from the Trail of Two Lakes Committee concerning beavers and beaver dams along the trail. This was requested after last council meeting when Robert Legate at tended telling council he did not agree with the trapping of beavers and wished they would leave the animals

Deputy-Reeve Walton Reid, a member of the Trail of Two Lakes Committee, told council, "Robert Leg-ate was at the meeting and he told us that his son had recently patched up a beaver dam on some private property, he would not reveal who owned the land when questioned.

Reid said Jim Kelleher of Moira River Conservation Authority told them that anything on municipal property was owned by the municipality and therefore they could do as they deemed necessary.

"I think the key is care should be exercised," Reeve Tom Deline noted. "I think it was exercised and I think precautionary things were done to prevent flooding and that is a hazardous issue for this municipality. Council should try to keep the protection of the municipality in place and, where deemed, contact the conservation authority when necessary, Deline stated

After hosting a contest to find a new municipal logo Centre Hastings has finally decided on its new crest. Council looked through the most recent entries at their October 27th meeting and narrowed down the cho until they found one they agreed upon.

"We've received some I think, excellent entries, Councillor Larry Mitz stated as council looked through the entries. Mitz pointed out while they had received good entries the last time they held the contest they needed something that would work as a pin and on the side of vehicles."

Some of them are very well done," Deline added
"Some of them are extremely good. If you read some of the thought train behind them in the articles you get an impression of the amount of thought put into them."

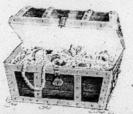

While council did finally choose the new logo they will wait until they contact the person who designed it before the logo is shown to back with the community and that is something they take very seriously

"We are going to be go-ing to the community to get ideas on budgeting priori-ties. We're not talking about the school board budget, we have a fairly large budget which is called non-board accounts that involves all the fundraising. We are needing ideas from the community because it's the community's responsibility to educate the children and that is clearly specified in the mandate from the province for school councils that every parent has the right and responsibility to be in-volved in their child's edu-cation," Lucas added. "As parents we look at that and say you have a right and responsibility to be involved in what's going on in the daily education of your child. If you've got ideas or if you have a special talent that we can use to enhance and enrich the education of our kids then let's do it. ## Disaster scenario tests Twp.'s emergency plan

Special exercise earns high marks

By Bill Freeman

Asphodel-Norwood -

Imagine this
A 40-ft tanker truck loaded with 60,000 gallons of propane jack-knifes under the railway overnass on highway seven in the east end of Asphodel-Norwood There is damage to the structure of the bridge and a leak from the tank cannot be stopped by emergency crews that have raced to the

A dense cloud of propane gas begins to spread through the Village of Norwood forcing the evacuation of residents and measures to prevent a catastrophic propane explosion. But more horrifying news is yet to come One-and-one-half hours after the crash, a train, un-able to stop before reaching the bridge, causes a spark going over the overpass igniting the propane and causing a huge explosion

The Township of Asphodel-Norwood's comprehensive emergency preparedness plan will now be tested to its limit with a rapid gathering of available mem-bers of the Municipal Con-trol Group (MCG), includ-ing the reeve, chief administrative officer, fire chief, duty officer, a member of the Kawartha OPP. the director of public works and a liaison officer in the Township's emergency operations centre at the Alma Street fire hall.

The MCG is certain they are facing a potentially deadly situation and the Reeve is asked activate the Township's well-developed emergency plan. telephone call is placed to the OPP's 24-hour notification line at its headquarters in Orillia.

The watch commander in Orillia takes the call and notifies the Kawartha OPP Detachment Commander who then begins assigning personnel to the area.

As this is occurring the unicipal Control Group continues to assess the situation with reports from the scene by emergency fire and rescue crews. The MCG's liaison officer is in contact with Peterborough County social services and other community and provincial support agencies like the Ministries of Environment and Transportation, the City-County Health Unit, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army and St. John Ambulance as they are needed

Peterborough County's emergency control group is also aware of the growing situation in Asphodel-Nor-

The City-County Social Services Department has been called in to staff and prepare the Township's designated evacuation centres at Norwood District High School, Norwood Public School, the Town Hall, Legion Branch 300 and, if necessary, neigh-bouring Havelock-Belmont Public School.

It is a tense and anxious time for the MCG, emergency personnel and the community as it comes to grips with an emerging nightmare.

Nightmare it could very well be, but it is, in fact, a two-hour "simulation" staged by Peterborough City's emergency planning office to help measure the office to help measure the preparedness of Asphodel-Norwood's newly-minted emergency plan -- a plan that has been in the works since early in the year with Fire Chief Paul Bitten working closely with county and municipal officials to put together a document that outlines the roles and responsibilities of all the people and support groups that would be called upon in a real emergency

The city's emergency planning office has also played a part in the devel-opment of the plan. The goals of the Oct. 21

Mr. Manley; Cheryl Lyon, also with the city's emergency planning office; Sandy Welsh from Peterborough County and Senior OPP Constable Deb Belisle conducted the exercise.

Tom Harpur special anniversary guest

By Dan Pilcher (Special to The Register)

Asphodel-Norwood -Asphodel-Norwood
On a breautiful crisp fall morning, Reverend Paul Peters Derry welcomed the members of Norwood United Church, St. Andrew's United in Westwood as well as many guests to a glorious anniversary service. It is safe to say that every minister would like to see so many happy faces in church every Sunday morning.

It was a pretty full house. Rev. Derry welcomed all and reminded us that it was 45 years ago to the day that 45 years ago to the day that this building was dedicated. The previous church, "The Limestone Church," had been destroyed by fire in March, 1953

As befitting a very special anniversary service, the music provided by the choir was wonderful. The regular Norwood choir had been joined by the choir of Blackstock United Church and their leader Linda Kyte. Together they sang a glori-ous song unto the Lord, under the direction of Fred Begg.

During the service, Rev.
Derry led the children through the church using the Hucklebug Rainbow Caterpillar to help keep everyone together. He pointed out historic items, like a cup and pitcher that date back to our Methodist roots.

He pointed out the stained glass windows and told of the stories behind some of them. (And he even promised that a new win-dow would be in place

The children, and likely most of the adults, enjoyed and benefited from this bit of history and nostalgia.

Ten new members were welcomed to The Church as part of this service. Lilian Evenden and Ellen Evenden and Ellen Woolfrey: Karen and Brian Radnor and their children arena and Brianna and Darlene Lunn and Ron Timmermans and their chil-Morgan and Lucas.

It is the custom and tra-dition of Norwood United Church to have a guest preacher and this year Rev. Paul took great pleasure in introducing Tom Harpur who chose as a sermon 'The Healing Church of Tomor-

It is quite likely that the name of Tom Harpur is very familiar to most people. He is one of Canada's best known writers on religious subjects. His regular column in the Toronto Star is read by thousands every week. He is also the author of several spiritual books including For Christ's Sake, And Life After Death and his latest, Prayer: The Hidden Fire. skills, Rev. harpur is also the host of a new television program, Uncommon Touch On Thursday evenings (8:30 pm) on Vision TV he deals with Uncommon complementary medi-

One might have wondered if his speaking abilities could match his writing skills. There was no disap-

He talked about the fact that vast numbers of younger people are leaving younger people are leaving the "mainstream" churches, and also that many churches are finding that their mem-bership roles are filled more and more by persons who no longer call themselves voungsters

This alarming fact raises scrious questions about the future of our church. Are we merely one generation away from closing our doors'

His talk then centred on complimentary medicines, that is to say, healing by what most would call nonmedicinal means holistic healing, natural remedies, spiritual healing.

Many people have real aches and pains that come from a troubled spirit. Rev. harpur has us wondering if there really was a place in our spiritual lives for healing services. This is not common in most Christian churches, but there certainly seems to be room for this type of service in our spiritual lives

Our speaker was thanked for his most interesting sermon by Norwood's Ruth MacDougal.

Coach resigns but Rebels sweep past Bruins, Flyers

Bruin Player Mauled-Rebel netminder Scott Meicalfe keeps a sharp eve out for the puck against the Uxbridge Bruins in junior C action in Campbellford last Saturday night. Meanwhile, Kyle McMurray (6) of the Rebels roughs up an unidentified Uxbridge player in the crease Rebels won 6-3. photo/Rolly Ethier.

Campbellford--Although the unexpected resignation of coach Frank Toms was a something of a shocker to both the players and team management, the Campbeilford Rebels carried on with gritty determination Saturday night on

With assistant coach Doug Mathew moving into the head coaching position to replace Toms, the Rebels added Kevin Brahaney to serve in the assistant's role. The two former Rebel players got off to an auspicious start as the Campbellford skaters looked sharp in engineering a 6-3 victory over the Uxbridge Bruins, one of the top teams in the Central Rebels followed up that strong performance with a hard-fought 4-3 victory over the Flyers on North Frontenac ice Sunday afternoon, anchored by a glit-tering 33-stop effort by goalie Rick Albrition.

Team president Larry Metcalfe said Toms resignation was a "big surprise but he expressed confidence that the tandem of Mathew and Brahaney has the knowhow to carry on and mould the Rebels into a strong contending team in the Empire Junior C League

Metcalfe said Toms informed him of his decision to leave following the Oct. 24th game in Napanee.

Coming off two consecu-tive losses, the Rebels demonstrated strong recuperative powers against the Uxbridge squad, taking a 4-I first period lead and then coasting to victory

McComb Leads Way Jamie McComb, an of-fensive thorn in the sides of the Bruins all night, opened the scoring at 18:44 of the first period, tipping in a shot from the point by defendeman Kevin Cork Then at 10.57, Adam Brown was the marksman after a setup from Jamie McComb

Bruins answered with a shorthanded goal at 8:42 as Brad Clubine stole a pass and sent Brett Jennings between the defence to beat Rebel goalie Scott Metcalfe

Seconds later Jamie McComb made it 4-1 with his second goal of the period, taking advantage of a Rebel power play opportu-

In the second period, Rebels soared to a 5-1 lead as an Uxbridge power play backfired. Kyle McMurray converted with assists go-ing to Kevin Cork and goalie Scott Metcalfe.

The Bruins were not quite ready to throw in the towel, however, and came storming back with two goals to trim the margin to 5-3. Trevor Dawes combined on a play with Kevin Vanderbeest and Brad Moore on the first Uxbridge marker at 12:20 and then at 8:50 a goal by Vanderbeest, working with Dawes and Culbine, forced the Rebels to renew their efforts.

McLaren Marksman Rebels came out in the final 20 minutes with a solid defensive performance, and it paid off, restricting the Bruins to only five shots on goal. Meanwhile, Rebels added to their margin at 17:38 on a goal by Jack McLaren after a passing exchange with J. P. Goulah and Ryan Culhane.

Game sponsor Subway Restaurant generously treated the players on both teams to a platter of food following the game.

One of the key games of the early season is sched-uled Saturday, Nov. 6th when the Rebels attempt to prove their mettle against the league leading Picton Pirates, a team gunning for its second straight Empire League crown Take 4-1 Lead

Rebels came out flying against North Frontenac seizing an early 3-0 lead before relying on superb goaltending by Albritton and a tenacious defensive effort to escape with a one-goal victory.

Jeff Whitney, with a pair, and Nick Bertrand staked the Rebs to a commanding first period lead before Steve Knowles got one back for the Flyers with 22 seconds left.

The teams traded goals in the second, Anthony Davies counting for the

Sr. Black tykes win big

Great start to 1999-2000 campaign

Asphodel-Norwood entennial Pharmacy Sr black tyke Hornets looked strong last week knocking off Douro 13-1. Lakefield 7-1 and Ennismore 10-0

Against Douro, Steven Walsh continued his strong offensive play with three goals He is also putting in good efforts in his defensive play and play-making

Michael Boucks and Matthew Cenner are prov-ing to be quite a duo trading each other ssists on each other's in this game

Sophomore player Shane Carthew is also showing his versatility and value to the team moving from defence to forward and quickly racking up two goals and two assists

The game also featured by Justin. Brandon assists by Justin McWhinnie, Brandon Kingston, Chase Baptie and Rachel Bolton The strong defensive pair of Kyle Anderson-Carter and Joshua Bucholtz were solid on their positions and kept Douro at bay

Blake Anderson also made the move up to forward and shows lots of desire and leadership in his rookie season with the senior squad.

The game was heavy in the Dukes' end giving Matthew Nelson a well-deserved fest in net

The Loucks-Zenner combination scored 30 sec onds into their match against Lakefield Zenner made a perfect pass to the tape with oucks making no mistake in his top shelf goal.

Steven Walsh responded on the next shift with the first of his four goals. Loucks notched another due the excellent effort that Blake Anderson made in hustling to keep the puck in the zone. He feathered a perfect pass to Loucks to record a pretty assist.

Zenner completed the scoring with some great puck-handling moves to free himself from the Lake-field defenders going endto-end to score.

It was lots of tricks but not many treats for the visitors on Hallowe'en night when Norwood blanked

The highlight of the night came when Rachel scored her first career goal on a pass from Steven Walsh. A rising star...

Shining star: Kendra Harding is taking another big step Shuning star: Kendra Haraing is taking another big step towards figure skaling stardom with her appearance at the big Eastern Ontario Sectionals at the Evinride Centre Nov. 4-7. The competition is a showcase event for prejuvenile to senior level skaters and is being used as a qualifier for the Bank of Montreal divisional and national qualifier for the Bank of Montreal divisional and national championships as well as the "Tomorrow's Championships" for juveniles. Kendra will be competing in the novice level which will draw upwards of 60 skaters to the four flights of competition. The top four from each flight in Friday's round qualify for Saturday's short program and Sunday's long program. The top three in the combined ordinals move on to the divisionals in Laval. Quebec. Figure skating fans will be in paradise at the Evinrude Centre where they can see lots of pairs and dance as well as free style skating. No skater from Norwood has ever moved in such company but Kendra's growing resume is sure sign that she belongs. She was a two-time Eastern Ontario silver level champion by NDSC ice carnival time last winter. Her silver ladies and artistic titles put her in the All-Ontario finals where she ranked sixth overall in the Ladies Junior Silver. Along with these impressive achievements. Kendra has also passed her silver and gold freeskate and has, in fact, a quadruple gold figure skating career earning a dance gold at 13 years, gold skills the next year and her artistic freeskate and novice competitive golds at 15 years. The grade 11 Norwood High student trains with Nancy Cunneyworth in Marmora and has been working out at Elvis Stojko's Mariposa home club to get that 'extra edge.' ## Hornets overpower I.C.

Asphodel-Norwood The Norwood Home hardware bantam Hornets took sto the ice at the Brethen Coliscum for their first game of the 1999-2000 schedule coming up short against the Otonabee Valves

Norwood's Pat Avotte scored the first goal with assists going to Adam Hunt and Josh Mcllmoyle. The Wolves came back with nice play from Corey Connelly The Wolves jumped ahead in the second with two unanswered goals from Curtis MeIntyre and Cory Johnston

Norwood got back into the game early in the third with a strong effort from Brent Begg finding the mesh, assisted by Will Ridgeway and Cody Shaw.

Six penalties to the Hornets in the third gave the Wolves all the chances they needed to finish up with two more goals from James Rossi and Connelly

Mike Noffke worked hard in net for the Hornets and strong efforts from Mike Rose, Alex Graham and Dan Garden during the penal-ties made for a most enterning game.
The Hornets got quite a work-out going with only 11 men in the ice for the game against Immaculate Conception. The penalty-killing squad only allowed one goal during their 12 minutes of shorthanded play leaving the ice with a deci-

Sr. White tykes roar in LEO league opener

Asphadel-Norwood -The Norwood Auto Centre senior white tykes were in a haunting mood Oct. 31 in their LEO League opener. The team swamped Douro 18-2 mixing hot play with the warm weather outside.

Leading the way was Dalton Charlebois with seven goals while Scott Foss and Steven Gerow fired in hat tricks, Cole Sadlier added two goals and Britney Barnett added a solo marker

Britney had four assists with three each to Mitchell Klompmaker and Cole. wo assist nights went to Dalton Rimmer and Angela Crowley. Dalton, Casey Fleming and Dalton Charlebois had single help-

On the skating scene ...

Asphodel-Norwood -The Norwood and District Figure Skating Club has unveiled its new logo. The design was submitted by Marilyn Clark of R. R. 4 Norwood during the Club's otto contest

The logo will be used on club jackets, newsletters

The Club thanks all those who participate in the contest

The skating season got underway Oct 27 and the Club's numbers are fantastic. There are 13 parents and skaters in the Thursday daytime Canskate program. 44 in the Monday-Wednesday evening Canskate program, seven Intermediates; 15 Seniors; ten skaters in the Tuesday (9 pm to 10 pm) adult program and 14 skaters in the IntermediateCanskate Synchronized program.

There are still a number of places in any of these programs as well as the senior and synchro lessons. For more information contact Diana Olver at 639-2411 or Bernadette Vanderhorst at 639-5777

Penalty count upsets midgets

Asphodel-Norwood - Mark Rumbles' shorthanded goal late in the third period helped Norwood's Stewart Motors midgets to a 2-2 exhibition tie with the Douro Dukes Oct. 2'

Goaltending heroics by Jamie Pulfer kept the team in the game, especially in the third period when the team was assessed ten penalties to the Dukes' three...

"The order of the day was just a constant stream of questionable and marginal calls," Hornets coach Greg Hartwick said of the match.

Steve Griffiths opened the scoring in the first with help from Tyler Spooner.

Scoring for Douro were Ryan Condon and Tim Hart-wick, who fired in a third period power play tharker.

Pee Wee Hornets look sharp in home opener

Asphodel-Norwood -The Asphodel-Norwood pee wee Hornets turned in a stunning second period offensive explosion to take their home opener 7-2 over St. Anne's Northminster.

The Hornets trailed 1-0 after one period before turning on the offensive jets to get the win.

Raymond Bradley's natural hat trick got things going for the Hornets and Bradley fittingly ended the scoring in the third for the victors. He tallied five goals for the night.

Rounding out the scoring for Asphodel-Norwood was defenceman Sam Chung, looking a lot like Daryl Sydor on the blueline.

The Asphodel-Nor-Emergency Plan worked well in response to the emergency, she added. The members of the emerwith command co-ordination communications and control of an emergency situation affecting public safety and well-being. Lyons said She says the control group exercised media reations and methods of informing the public, perimeter control, looked after people with special needs, got and co-ordinated additional resources from Peterborough County worked closely with provincial agencies, continuously monitored events and kept records and looked ahead to the post-emergency recovery period

The exercise was timely and occurred four days after Chief Bitten presented Councillors with indexed binders containing the municipality's emergency preparedness plan

T've been through a couple of these (mock disasiers) so we do have some idea of what's going to hapnen with this exercise. Chief Bitten told Council.

"It's really going to be an accelerated schedule." he reminded them, noting that a real emergency can last obviously last much longer They're doing this to identify flaws. I think it is very valuable, he said at the time.

'The exercise was a big success," Chief Bitten said the following Monday.

They did make a couple of changes to the plan as a result of the exercise, he said

But he said "they made it clear that it functioned well. even though it was a simulated situation, "said Reeve Doug Pearcy. "Particularly Doug Pearcy. Particularly with the police and fire department and all the people we count on for emergency services

Chief Bitten earlier reeas of the plan with Council telling them the document municipality enacts a bylaw governing its use

Central to the plan is the emergency control group and its members -- each designated member also has an alternate

The Township CAO coordinates all of the control control centre and is the principal adviser to the Reeve and Council on all emergency matters. The Reeve is the only member of Council on the control group, with the Deputyreeve stepping in as an alternate if necessary

It is the Reeve, after hearing recommendations from the control group, who would declare a state of emergency activating the local plan. The Reeve can also activate the County's emergency plan if neces-

Police, fire and rescue, public works representatives also sit on the control group along with the emergency planning (duty) of-ficer who acts as the 'secretary to the group.

Chief Bitten says that in the original plan the duty officer would also act as the group's liaison officer but following the "mock" exercise "they've senarated it and made it two people."

This liaison officer works with county officials, social services and other orcanizations that might be

He said that they also learned that day that the olice will be the conduit for public information.

The revised plan has a portfolio for public information officer but we won't designate a person for it.

Should the plan be implemented the OPP would take on this responsibility.

In the plan. Asphodel-Norwood would not be responsible for providing social support services. City and County, which iointly, administer those services, would take on that role as outlined in the plan.

That takes the pressure off our own individual mu-Chief Bitten nicipality These are roles that are very hard to fill at the local level."

These are the people responsible for manning the ing the registration of people," (

They would be supported by resources provided by organizations like the Red Cross or Salvation Army.

The second part of the plan provides various appendices which list resources, the names of first, second and third line response personnel and their alternates provincial and federal emergency response officials and agencies district organizations: evacuation centres; the OPP's emergency notification pro-cedure and a directory of support services

The schools are ideal facilities for that sort of thing (evacuations)," Chief Bitten said

Along with their large washroom areas, these buildings also have large brolier and power and heating systems and remain warm. Chief Bitten said.

"During the ice storm; Ontario Hydro made it a priority to run lines to the schools," he said. "They were used as evacuation centres first. They would do the same here

We also don't have any buildings in the community as large as those," he added. Each school board has its own emergency plan. Chief Bitten said. But he has not yet received a copy of it.

"They would open up evacuation centres as needed across the County Chief Bitten also said that Havelock-Belmont-Methuen's emergency con-trol centre would be Asphodel-Norwood's alternate. The roles would be reversed if necessary.

It certainly makes more sense for small communities." he said.

The plan also reviews the role and responsibilities of provincial and federal organizations and Chief Bitten says these roles are in place across the county

As in the test exercise. the emergency plan is activated with a call from the control group to the OPP's communications centre in Orillia. Special log sheets will track the procedure.

Inside the emergency operations centre itself. each person has specific and responsibilities Chief Bitten says.

There are separate books made up, he said, that clearly outline what these

The City-County Health Unit also has its own procedures for the emergency operations centre and it is also included in a special section of the emergency document

The directors of support services includes informa tion on the County's mutual aid plan, the fire and rescue department and public works

In the Fire and Rescue section there is a list of equipment and personnel, industrial and business contacts and an inventory of hazardous materials

Public Works also lists equipment and personnel. contractors and equipment suppliers and a list of transportation companies, their equipment and contacts

The last thing in the book will be the Peterborough County plan itself Chief Bitten say

The plan will be updated and reviewed on an annual basis and necessary changes will be made at anytime, he added

Following the mock exthey realized another phone line was needed at the operations centre.

In the event of a real emergency taking place we would definitely be short a phone line," he said.

The additional line would be used strictly as a stand-by, emergencies-only communications tool. And because it would be a standby line, the municipality would like Bell Canada to offer a reduced rate. Bell maintains CRTC rules prevent them from charging anything less than the full price.

Chief Bitten says they have budgeted for a phone line and would like to have it in by December.

"I just think we should have it." he said.

Deputy-reeve Cathy Turner says the County is lobbying Bell because other municipalities face the same problem and get the same

Chief Bitten says if the County has a "better sug-

Dombrowsky's maiden speech highlights needs of HFL&A

In her first speech to the provincial Legislature MPP for Hastings, Frontenac, Lennox & Addington Leona Dombrowsky heralded her riding's strengths and tool the opportunity to share with the government concerns that have been brought to her attention over recent months The following is the contents of a news release is-sued from her Queen's Park

"I am a farmer's daugh-ter, raised in the French Settlement north of Tweed, Ontario. My parents worked hard and raised their daughters to care about people and respect others. It is within this hard-working rural fam-ily that I learned about the importance of democracy, the value of having a voice, and the moral responsibility to stand up for those things that you believe to be true.

In addition to thanking those who helped her get to Queen's Park, Ms. Dom-browsky took the opportunity to highlight this unique part of Ontario. "Not only does Hastings, Frontenac, Lennox & Addington have one of the longest riding names, but it also covers an

Library board welcomes public to meetings

Asphodel-Norwood The Asphodel-Norwood Public Library Board wants to remind area residents that their meetings are open to the public. Anyone inter-ested in attending should note that the meetings are usually held on the third Tuesday of the month with the exception being this months meeting which is scheduled for Nov. 23. The Nov. 23 meeting will also start one hour later than usual -- at 8 pm -- and will be held in the downstairs meeting room of the Norwood Library Branch.

Meetings traditionally rotate between library branches so the next meet-ing will be Dec. 21 in Westarea of 12,330 square kilometres, stretching from

Yet, as wonderful as Hastings, Frontenac, Len-nox & Addington is, over the past several months I have had the opportunity to have had the opportunity hear from many real people my riding. The across my riding. The Throne Speech talked aboutreal people and real fami-lies, and as long as it was, it was silent in addressing the myriad of issues that have come to me in recent weeks and months. "Specifically Ms. Dombrowsky addressed a variety of specific issues for the riding including:

The concerns of parents of students with special needs who have experienced reductions in support serv-ices for their children.

Essential services, such

Ms Dombrowsky concluded in her speech by reiterating her commitment to the people of Hastings, Frontenac, Lennox & Adding-ton, "Mr Speaker I have promised the people of Hastngs, Frontenac, Lennox & Addington that i will be their voice at Queen's Park. I know for whom I work, and am both humbled and inspired by their confidence My work will bring me to Toronto, however, my heart is and always will be firmly

Remembrance-

Do you remember the first time you heard of Remembrance Day? Heard, saw or attended the laying of the wreath ceremony? Met a Veteran?

Met a Veteran?

Most Canadians gained their first knowledge of Remembrance Day from the history learned in school and the two minutes of silence was observed at I1 a m. while standing at your desk. The radio broadcast of the service held in Ottawa was heard in homes across Canada and living in a cit i never met a Veteran until 1941.

At that time the first World War had been over for 23 years and the second World War was in it's second year

ond year
How many Canadians care about Remembrance Day? For some it is just a day off work, others, when the clock shows I I a.m. they keep on with what they are doing. Just another day, another hour.

It is sad to think that our history and what Ganadian men and women have done in the past to give us the freedom of choice in whatever we do is "swept under the rig". "It didn't happen". "so what."

"Sowhat History is not a particularly well liked or well taught subject in schools these days, even when it is taught there are many who can dispute what is being taught and the slant put on the actual events that formed this nation. To pick up a book and read the actual facts written by Canadians about what happened is too much work. It is easier to watch television or go to a movie and see what other countries portray what happened in these conflicts, with no mention of the Canadian effort or sacrifices. Canada, with a population of only a few million, saw 619,636 Canadian men and women leave home and country to face an unknown enemy during 1914 to 1918, of them 66,655 never returned. In 1939 the call was heard once again and Canadians answered it coming from small villages, farms, fishing villages and the cit-ies across the country. More than one million Canadians and Newfoundlanders crossed the Atlantic and of those 45,000 gave their lives and another 55,000 were wounded. The Korea con-flict started in 1950 under the United Nations Organization and, once again, 26,791 Canadian men and women answered the call and when it ended in 1953 Canadians stayed on as part of the Peace Keeping Force with 7,000 serving between the ceasefire and the end of 1955. Casualties numbered 1,558 of which 516 were fatal.

On November 11th you will see veterans, men and women in their seventies and eighties parading if they can, if not, standing near a memorial, remembering the men and women who stood beside them during the conflicts, through the good times and the times they do not speak of, and especially those that did not return home with them.

Attend a service wherever you are or stop at eleven a.m. on November 11th for two minutes and offer your own silent thanks to these men and women and a plea for the unrest in the world to end, so more Canadians will not be called upon to leave their families to serve on foreign soil. War has many faces, but

War has many faces, but few of them are pleasant. We will remember them.

REMEMBRANCE

In this last year of this century of wars, The Royal Canadian Legion invites you to participate in a special tribute to Canada's war dead. The "2 Minute Wave of Silence" is a Legion Millennium Event designed to enable Canadians to stand in silent tribute to those gallant men and women at 11 a.m. local time on 11 November. As the clock strikes 11 a.m. in the six to be a short break to be nour those whose minutes on this earth ended so early. The effect will be a "Wave of Silence" rolling from coast to coast. Join the wave and make this Remembrance Day a living memory for all who participate.

In remembrance of the sacrifices of those who gave their lives for the freedom of our country.

Take up our quarrel with the foe, To you with failing hands we throw The torch, be yours to hold it high If ye break faith with us who die We shall not sleep, though poppies grow In Flanders Fields.

Ellen, Karen, Betty, Agnus and Hilda

Wilson's of Madoc

A million times it can be seen but not

The lesson is learned but forgotten and no one achieves

The lesson is that death is all war ever leques

And that it never yields what we all need... And what we all need is peace.

IN FLANDERS FIELDS

In Flanders Fields the poppies grow Behreen the crosses, row on row That mark our place, and in the sky The larks still bravely singing fly. Scarce heard amid the gurs below We are the Dead Short days go We lived, left dawn, saw sunset glor Loved, and were loved, and now we in Flanders Fields.

In Flanders Fields.
Take up our quarrel with the loe.
To you from failing hands we throw.
The torch, be yours to hold it high if ye break faith with us who die.
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow.

anada and our role as peacekeepers

During the first half of this century, some 1.5 mil-lion Canadians were called upon to defend peace and freedom around the world during the first World War, the second World War and the Korean War. Over 110,000 Canadians died: Following these terrible conflicts, Canada began looking for ways to prevent tooking for ways to prevent wars. Contemporary peace-keeping is a natural extension of Canada's longstanding commitment to the principles of peace and freedom.

Following the second World War, Canada was involved in military ob-server missions in the late 1940's, particularly during the Arab-Israeli and the In-dia-Pakistan conflicts. From aggression during the Korean War. However, it wasn't until 1956 that the term peacekeeping entered the popular vocabulary, thanks to a Canadian. During the Suez Crisis of 1956, Secretary of State for External Affairs Lester B. Pearson - Canada's 14th Prime Minister - proposed that multinational UN peacekeeping forces be sent to the Suez to separate the warring parties. For his vi-sionary idea, Mr. Pearson was awarded the 1957 Nobel Peace Prize.

Peacekeepers are tradi-tionally placed between hostile forces to supervise cease-fires and the with-drawal of opposing forces. In recent years the role of peacekeepers has expanded to include the delivery of humanitarian aid, the su-pervision of elections, the repatriation of refugees, the disarming of warring factions and the reclamation of shattered landscapes through the clearing of mines, etc... Another increasingly important aspect of peacekeeping is support for stable government and human rights, including the organization of electoral systems, and the training of police forces and the judici-These new peacekeeping activities now involve many Canadian civilians, in addition to the Canadian Armed Forces.

Canada is one of a hand-ful of nations to which the United Nations can regularly turn to obtain peacekeeping advice and expert peacekeepers. Canada has participated in the overwhelming majority peacekeeping operations mandated by the United Nations Security Council Tens of thousands of Canadians have served in more than 40 separate peacekeeping missions. But Canada's contribution is not without risk: over 100 Canadians have died in peacekeeping operations and hundreds more have been wounded.

In 1988, the Nobel Peace Prize was awarded collec-tively to UN Peacekeepers in recognition of their historic efforts to limit violence and promote peace. A Canadian invented peace-keeping and Canada has always been one of the world's most committed peacekeeping nations. In a small way, every Canadian can share in the honour the Nobel Prize confers on the peacekoepers of the world, including e peacekeepers Canada's Madoc Review, Saturday, November 6, 1999 ' Page 17 If we all strive conscientiously to

Canada's involvement in the three major wars

First World War Canada entered the war in 1914.

Almost 620,000 Canadian men and women served in the First World War at a time when the population of the country was only a few million.

Of these, over 66,000 were killed.

At the Battle of the Somme the British Forces suffered their heaviest oneday loss ever, over 57,000 men. More than 700 men from the Newfoundland regiment were killed or injured during this battle

Four Canadians were awarded the Victoria Cross. the Commonwealth's highest award for bravery, for their part in the taking of Vimy Ridge.

Canadian John McCrae wrote the poem "In Flan-ders Fields" while on the battlefields

During the course of the war, Canada's naval serv-ice grew from 350 men and two ships to a force of 9,000 men and 100 ships.

Second World War

By September 1939, over 58,000 Canadian men and women had volunteered to serve in the Canadian Forces. Canadian soldiers formed the main assault force for the raid on Dicppe, where over 900 Ca-nadians were killed and almost 2,000 more were taken prisoner

Approximately 14,000 Canadians landed at Nor-mandy on D-Day.

The 1st Canadian Army was instrumental in the liberation of Holland in May

Over one million Canadians served in the Second World War and approxi-mately 43,000 gave their lives.

Canada's navy was the third largest in the allied forces, and its air force was the fourth largest.

By the end of the Second World War, Canada's navy had more than 113,000 personnel, including over 7.000 women.

Korean War North Korea's invasion of South Korea marked the first open act of aggression since the establishment of the United Nations

Over 26,000 Canadians served in the Korean War. The Royal Canadian Navy was the first branch of Canada's forces to provide aid to the UN Forces in

Over 1,500 Canadians lost their lives during the Korean War, 378 of whom are buried at the United Nations Memorial Cemetery at Tanggok, a suburb of Pusan. Canada made a larger contribution in proportion to its population than most of the nations which pro-vided troops for the international force.

Facts about the poppy

During the Napoleonic Wars, the poppy drew attention as the mysterious flower that bloomed over the graves of fallen soldiers.

In the 20th Century, the poppy again was widely noticed after soils in France and Belgium became rich in lime from rubble during the first World War. The little red flowers flourished around the graves of the war dead as they had 100

vears earlier

In 1915, Guelph, Ontario native John McCrae, a doc-tor serving with the Canadian Forces Artillery, recorded this phenomenon in his famous poem "In Flan-ders Fields."

Two days before Armistice. Moina Michael, an American woman from Athens. Georgia, read the McCrae poem and was inspired to wear a poppy year-round in memory of the war

In 1920, Madame E. Guerin of France visited the United States and happened to meet Miss Michael at the YMCA at Colombia University, where the latter was a volunteer. Mme. Guerin then resolved to sell handmade poppies around Ar-mistice Day to raise money for poor children in the warform areas of Europe. In 1921, Field-Marshall

Earl Haig, the former Com-mander-In-Chief of British

Armies in France and Belgium and the principal founder of the British Legion, was sold on Mme. Guerin's fundraising idea and approved organization of the British Poppy Day Appeal by the Legion to raise money for poor and disabled veterans.

The same year, Mmc. Guerin visited Canada, and convinced the Great War Veterans Association (predecessor to the Royal Canadian Legion) to similarly adopt the poppy as a sym-bol of remembrance in aid of fundraising

Today, the Poppy Cam-paign is one of the Royal Canadian Legion's most important programs. The money raised from poppy sales provides di at assist ance for ex-service people in financial distress, as well as funding for medical appliances and research, hom services, care facilities, and numerous other purposes.

The Board received a Secondary School Reform update from Curriculum Services staff. There is an active school implementation team in every secondary school and each team has received Ministry training. Over forty secondary school teachers worked on summer writing teams to produce quality learning materials for staff use. Subject councils are analyzing the program changes and making recommendations as to how to best approach those changes. Several resources have been produced or are in the works: a handbook has been produced for teachers to assist in the implementation of the provincial reporting system; a binder of materials for

by W. Brice McVicar

It was a night set aside to recognize the achievement of students

Students, families and teachers gathered at the Centre Hastings Secondary School's gymnasium on November 9th to hand out awards in recognition of the achievements students at the school have made.

A total of 61 awards were handed out and the gathered crowd was also treated to musical numbers performed by the school's senior music class, the vocal ensemble and the jazz band Members of the theatre troupe also displayed their talents by acting out portions of productions during the ceremony.

Masters of ceremonies

Masters of ceremonies Brad Barbeau and Sally Lahey welcomed everyone and introduced the school principal, Ms. Christine Walker.

Before delivering her speech Walker recognized Mr. Carl Pitman, the area trustee from the Hastings and Prince Edward School Board.

"We're here tonight to honour students who have made a difference in the classrooms of Centre Hastings Secondary School," Walkertold the crowd. "We call tonight our first annual Celebration: Recognition '99 because we want to reognize with a formal presentation and a keepsake.

Hunter shoots himself

Centre Hastings OPP investigated a hunting ac-cident which occurred on the afternoon of November 4th. At around 3:30 p.m. Joseph Belfon, age 57. of Oakville was hunting on the Weslemkoon Lake Road in Tudor Township when he tripped while in a swampy area. Belfon's firearm discharged and a buillet struck his toe. He was treated and released from Belleville General Hospital. No charges are being laid as the incident has been ruled as accidental those students, who as I say in the program, have gone the extra mile.

in the program, have gotte extra mile.

"Who are we honouring tonight? You will see the academic stars of CHSS, the top five students in each grade. As well," she added, "each department has selected one junior and one senior student who have made a significant contribution to the classroom. These are the students whose positive attitudes and actions make a major difference everyday in our classrooms.

Walker noted it is not often enough that time is taken to recognize those students who add so much to the school.

"When we were planning Recognition" 99 we made a conscious decision to honour as many students as possible so in most cases students are winning only one award. While you should feel very proud of getting that award you should also not wonder why you were nominated for science and not for art, you are here because you add much to the school and you help to make Centre Hastings the great school it is."

Walker stated.

The students were each awarded a commemorative pencil holder that bore the Centre Hastings crest which was designed by Mr. Olsen's Construction Technology.

The first awards handed out were to the top five students in grade 9. Recipients were Sarah Hogg, Tyler Donnan, Kristen McConnell, Chloe Smith and Jeanine Donnan and Jeanine Donnan.

The junior science awards were handed to Matt Crevier and Cory Finch. The senior award was given to Albert Stoffers.

Junior drama award was given to April Maurer and Shannon Yarrow and Laura Matthews took the senior award. David Kirkman was awarded the junior award for drama for his outstanding performance in the class presentation of Grease.

The French awards for junior and senior were handed to Theresa Wickman and Beth Workman

Family studies awards were awarded to Laura Matthews, Cassic Truckel and Yvonne Rose

Matt Snell took the award for junior in social science while the senior award winner was Mike A. Empey.

Geography awards were handed to junior Ben Robinson and senior Jeff Day

School council seeks community reps

by W. Brice McVicar

The Madoc Public School Council is seeking individuals from the local community to sit on the council.

Mark Lucas, public relations for the council, explained, "Council, in choosing its community reps, has to identify by priority community groups that they want to approach to solical representation from that community group. We are in that process because we redid our method of selecting community reps and this is the first year that we're implementing it.

Lucas explained while the council is currently in the process of listing those groups by priority they are also using the method used last year and have approached one individual who expressed interest in becoming a community representative.

"Sheryl Blackburn," Lucas stated, "was the previous chair of the council and we have said yes. Previous members of the council would certainly be a group of individuals from within the community that we'd be interested in having on council. Sheryl no longer has children in the public school, her children have moved onto the high school, so rather than lose her experience with council she came to us and said If you want me to come on a community rep I will and council considered that

Other groups that council have looked a but have not yet prioritized include business groups, health care, early childhood education, and religious organizations. The council must look into the community to Continued on page 2

Lucas noted that community representatives are on the board to give the council a community perspective on issues. While a parent has a point of view a community representative may have a different perspective than that parent.

community so that when we're considering issues we consider them from all ar-eas," he said. Lucas also noted this is not something that has always been done in the past, many of the things done in the past were done under the direction of a small group of people. "When you only take the ideas of a small group of people you quite often do things that other groups of people don't agree with. Now, before we do something we're trying to seek out as many points of view within the community as possible so that the whole community is involved in the process of educating the children," Lucas explained

If someone is interested in becoming a community representative they can contact anyone on the council or the school.

I think we're in the process right now of amending it where if you weren't elected in June by simply attending two meetings and indicating you're interested in being on council then you're on council " Lucas stated He also explained they set it up for two meetings so people would not show up to one meeting to make changes in certain areas and then never show up again

MINOR HOCKEY REPORT

by Sherri Carman

by Sherri Carman

Last Sunday, November 7th, the Tyke Grizzlies played host to the Frankford Huskies. First period action saw Shane Dillon getting on the board early with an unassisted goal to end the first ahead by one. Minutes into the second Brandon Danford banged one past the Huskies goalie, unassisted. Frankford answered back a minute later, sneaking one past Haydn

McInroy, but that was the last scoring opportunity Haydn would allow the Huskies. Before the end of the period the Grizzlies padded their lead. Shane Dillon banged this one home, passed up by MacKenzie Smith. Shane carned himself a hat-trick at 11 02 in the third and the Tykes chalked up a sweet 4 to 1 victory

In a recent match beween the Peewee DD Grizclies and visiting Havelock he fans in Marmora were reated to an "edge of your hockey cat' Brennan Tuckett got things started for the home team. ess than a minute into the irst, he was assisted by Dave Hughes. Exactly one ninute later Havelock got on the board and in rapid accession score twice nore At the end of the first, Chad McLean found the hole, with help from Logan assidy and Matt Maguire Havelock scored the only goal in the second and wid-oach, Dave Maloney, did to this team during the flood but he should remember it The Grizzlies came out fighting in the third and completely dominated the rest of this game. Shawn Trotter started the come back, assisted by Brennan Tuckett. Travis Gordon popped the next one in assisted by Dave Maloney The tie goal was scored by Brennan Tuckett, passed up be teammates George Derry and Chad McLean. The match ended in a 5-5 dead-

Last Friday night's dou-ble-header in Marmora started with the Peewee AE Grizzlies hosting the Bancroft Jets. These two. evenly matched teams fought hard in the first but neither got on the board. At 9:21 in the second, James Gushuchit the mark assisted by Tyler Mumby. With the period winding down the Gushue brothers manned an assault, James scored the point and Mike earned the assist. Twenty seconds later the Jets managed a cheap one and the period ended with our team ahead by one. Third period action underway with a goal from Bancroft. A minute later the hometeam got it back Brennan Vezina scored with a pass from Dillon Carman.

Next on the schedule that Friday night two newly amalgamated centres went head to head. The Centre Hastings Midgets took on Percy Township (Warkworth and Hastings). The first period ended in a tie situation. Ryan Terrion gol the point for the Grizzlies assisted by Scott Acron Early in the second Adam Gray blistered one in off the sticks of Adam MacDonald and Scott Aeron. Percy fought back with a goal at 7:58 in the period that went unanswered until the last seconds of play when Isaa Muise tipped one in off the stick of Jesse Cassidy We were ahead by one going into the third but the lead didn't flast long. Percy scored minutes into the period. Our Midgets battled hard and it paid off, the winning point came from Scott Acron assisted by Jason Wilson, earning the Grizzlies a 4-3 victory. Grizzlies weekend hockey schedule: In Madoc on Friday the 12th the double-header gets underway at 7:30 with the Bantam DD hosting Deseronto. Then, at 9 p.m., the Midgets take the ice versus Ennismore. Saturday the Novice AE play Campbellford at 12 p.m. and at 2:30 the Atom AE nost Tweed. In Marmora on Sunday the 14th the action starts at 4 p.m. with the Novice AE host Belleville, followed by the Bantam DD versus North Frontenac at 5

Topsy-turvy season continues for Rebels

The Herald

Pirates trounce locals

The Campbellford Rebels' season thus far in the Empire Junior C Hockey League can be best described as up-and-down like a yo-yo.

Two weekends ago the Rebels suffered two losses but rebounded last weekend, looking much-improved under newly-appointed head coach Doug Mathew, to sweep past the Uxbridge Bruins 6-3, following up with a 4-3 victory over the North Frontenac Hyers.

You would have thought the Rebels would have had momentum in their favour for Saturday night's important game against the leagueleading Picton Pirates but it didn't work out that way Rebels were simply no match for the well-oiled Picton squad who wrapped up a 7-3 victory

Sunday the Rebels battled valiantly to salvage a weekend split but instead returned home with a 4-3 defeat at the hands of the Flyers in North Frontenac. Rebels take on the Napanee Raiders in their next home start Friday, Nov. 12th.

Picton got off to a potent start by taking an early 2-0 lead in the first period on goals by Shane Cutler and Jason Coons but the Rebels trimmed the margin on a goal by Jeremy Smith from

Take 3-1 Lead

Then with 3:15 left in the period, the Pirates made it 3on a goal by Evan Osterhoutt with Nathan Vader and Wayne Brown earning assists. The second period saw Picton go up 5-1 on two goals while the Rebels were shorthanded by two players. Brown scored on a shot from the point with Vader and Ousterhoutt and Vader connecting seven minutes later.

With 5:03 remaining in the second frame, Rebels cut the margin to 5-2 on a goal by Adam Brown who teamed up with Jamie McComb and Decon Watterson on the scoring play. In the third period the parade to the penalty box continued and resulted in the Pirates adding their fourth power play goal at 8:43 by Mark Allen, assisted by Mike Stever and Josh Stott. Then at 6:01, Bryan Sheppard added to the Picton margin as he converted passes from Mike Steverand Chris Roy.

Defenceman Kevin Cork added Campbellford's third goal with 2:41 left in the game, teaming up with Bryce Ellis and Watterson But it was much too little and much too late to make much difference.

School Council learns more about OPP's role at Norwood High

By Marg VanWill (Special to The Register)

Asphodel-Norwood Chairperson Sharon Stanley welcomed everyone to the October meeting of the Norwood Community School Council She introduced and welcomed the guest speaker Constable Jen Patton of the OPP and invited her to the meeting

Const Patton explained that she is the chief contact for the high school and spoke on her role in the school and community. Her area (Zone 2) extends from Peterborough to Marmora, north to Stoney Lake and south to Hastings and Rice Lake She is interested in this area and her focus is to be present for teachers, students and parents with the understanding Ahat emergency calls take priority

Const Patton mentioned that there are a number of resources available for her use and that problems can be dealt with in different ways through the school and police depending on the situation

She said that a recent nine visit to the school did not come up with any hard evidence

There are problems with drug dealing on the streets, she said, but no hard evidence of dealing within the school

She said they watch out for small "jewellery bags" (plastic, zip lock) because it is usually evidence that the drug came from a large number of pamphlets and booklets with the School Council including those entitled "You've had Pre-Na-tal, Now get Pre-Teen!" and "Drug Safety. Say Yes to Life. Success. Happiness. Fun. Freedom

Parents attending the meeting were very pleased with the useful information given in Const. Patton's presentation

A very short business meeting followed with Prin-cipal Walt Greenway encouraging parents to help the "Reading Assistance" program designed to help grade eight students who have difficulty reading. Volunteers can contact Heather Clayton at 639-5332 Monday to Friday

Mr. Greenway asked for Council's support in han-dling a School Board policy regarding the music pro-gram which affects students in the former Peterborough Board.

Even though the Peterborough Board has amalgamated with the Northun Board, berland Greenway says there are still two sets of policies in place and a motion in place that states that until a new policy is adopted the exist-one of the situations this creates involves grade 7-8 music students with the former Peterborough board who must pay $20 for their program. The school must pay $2200 by Dec. 17 with the money coming either from students or from the top of the Intermediate

Madoc Manor's owner takes on hands-on management

by W. Brice McVicar

Walking into the Madoc Manor one can't help but feel they've entered a home not a "nursing home

Owner/operator Ron Forbes pointed out Cheryl and Gerald Bradley were the people running the Manor since he and his wife bought the building in 1993 but as of May of 1999 he and his wife, Sharon, took over the actual hands-on management. Forbes lives in the Manor in an apartment upstairs

Sitting in his spacious upstairs office Forbes explained he had originally bought the Manor for his foster-son but, tragically, his son was killed.

It was kind of handy, having Cheryl here because she had been here for a lone time and who's better quali fied so we hired Cheryl and her husband and they did a good job and they looked after the residents." Forbes stated

Forbes said, "We're here, we've made good movement in re-doing the place and a lot of people and have noticed complimented its on it and we're going to continue to improve our situation and the building. He noted they have a very good staff, serve excellent food to the residents and have made improvements in the building such as adding a new chairlift, fixing roofs, painting and putting in a smoking room and Forbes added there's a lot more he's planning to do.

These renovations are just to simply fix the building, Forbes explained. but is to make the place feel like a home. He said he wants the building to have character and not to have the appearance of a nursing

While Forbes wasn't completely sure which phrase he preferred 'nursing home" or "retirement he did note they offer long-term retirement They have to conform to all municipal by-laws. inspected by the Hastings Health Department on a regular basis and by the fire department

We encourage the family to be involved. We encourage them to come in and assist with care for the residents. We encourage family involvement and we encourage involvement from the outside commu-nity coming in to visit, whether that be home-care or whatever, because they help keep us on our toes Families, if they're not happy with something that's going down, will share that with us and I don't think there's a better way to police what someone does in a retirement home than to say C'mon in, the doors are said people don't need to make a reservation to go and see the Manor, they're more than welcome to simply show up.

Forbes explained he had taken this reporter through one of the heaviest travelled areas in the Manor and wanted to honestly know if there had been any scents or smells that were offensive. He added they make sure the Manor doesn't have odours or smells that some nursing homes may and was happy when told this reporter

C.H.S.S. News

by Jennifer Alexander and Chloe Smith

Last Friday was the first of many CHSS Coffee Houses! Friday's gathering was titled Y2Koffee house. It was a great success with an estimated 100 people attending. Many past and present students performed their musical and literary gifts. One of the performers featured last Friday was Chris Magwood, a former student. Chris performed an amazing German chant and an exciting epic. Another one of the talents that students were treated to was a combination of two voices. Jesse Jacobs and Zac Clarke who performed a version of Washboard Hank. The evening was greatly loved by all who attended and everyone is looking forward to the next one.

November 16th is Senior Boys Volleyball COSSA at CHSS. So far the senior boys have done very and took the gold medal at Bay of Quinte held at Nicholson Catholic College on Tuesday. Good luck at COSSA guys!

Watch out students! Report cards will be sent home on November 25th. The grade nines will be issued the new report cards. Stu-dents will be asked to get a parent signature on the mid-term report. Also, the 26th of November is a non-instructional day throughout the school board

On November 9th the first Recognition Night was held at Centre Hastings. From 6:30 until 7 refreshments were served prepared by the hospitality class. The award ceremony began at 7 p.m. with Brad Barbeau and Sally Lahey as Master of Ceremonies. Sixty-three awards were received by the very deserving recipi-ents. The top grade 9 with the highest average was Sarah Hogg, grade 10 was Benjamin Bryden, grade 11 was Carol Bereton and grade 12 was Deanna Cooney The Ontario Sec-ondary School Teacher's Federation District 29 Student Achievement Recognition Award was received by a student who honours a high level of achievement and excellence in their school/local communities. their courses of study, and their extra-curricular activities. The winners were: Kristen McConnell, Sarah Henderson, Erin Rollins and Deanna Cooney.

A huge congratulations goes out to Brian Beatty for his outstanding perform-ance at OFSAA Cross-Country in Etobicoke on Saturday! In a field of over 250 runners, Brian placed in the top quarter! Centre Hastings is proud of you!

Hastings County Doug Mumford acted as a moderator at the meeting and simply stated. This meeting is not my doing but I applaud the people who put it together. I'm not here to put my ideas forward any explained the meeting was simply exploratory and would give each council to express their thoughts, ideas and concerns

Township Limerick Reeve Wes Moffat stated all his councillors were with him and this was their first experience in discussing plained Marmora and Lake Clerk Frank Mills had sent them a letter informing them of the meeting and they decided to attend

"Our present position is this." Moffat said, "geo-graphically we are in the middle of nowhere and are surrounded by neighbours who aren't interested Moffat said his municipality could be interested in amalgamating

Gerald Reid. Reeve of Madoc Township, stated he was speaking only for himself and understood his councillors may have different opinions

"The writing's on the wall, doing nothing is not an option any more. Something's got to be done. I think this is the time to do it. I'd rather be a leader than a follower.

Reid said he felt better services could be delivered by restructuring and he felt that was the answer

"Whether you went for a rural flavour or if you want to go south there's pros and cons to both, he added

Marmora and Lake's Reeve, Lionel Bennett, said. "We have something in common. Each one of us has to do something.

Bennett went on to say other municipalities have done things and he felt it was time they did too. He stressed he was speaking mainly for himself as he has yet to get a collective opinion from all his councillors

I would like to see the urban areas of the County separate. The rural town-ships have to look at their lot of similarities I think we can fulfil the expectations of the provincial gov ernment without moving to a larger municipality (such as Belleville) and keep the

County structure. he noted Arnold Burkett, Reeve of Tudor and Cashel, simply stated his municipality was not interested in any type of amalgamation until they are told they have to do

Al: Vader Reeve of Wolfaston Township, said they were willing to think about these things. He said they'd like to get as much information as possible. He said to restructure they needed to have a focal point but stressed he didn't want to see a very large munici-

Bush said they can't see leaving out Centre Hastings.
Stirling-Rawdon and they've also been approached by Campbellford.
There's others we're more in sync with. We're more interested in a Centre Hastings, not the north. We iren't really interested in this entire group." she com-

Other representatives from the various councils also added their comments and Clark Young of Limer-ick said he was glad they were all together discuss ing it and said he believed they could find a better way to provide services I think we should try to keep it in a rural flavour. he concluded Graham Búrris of Madoc

Township said his municipality doesn't really have any shared services with the north and he feels the centre that is really growing is towards Belleville

Rayburn Robinson, also of Madoc Township, 'said he was quite happy with the municipality the way it is but "if it has to be it has to He also noted he has some concerns with the services they outd provide Roger Watson of Marmora and Lake explained he went through the amalgamation process be-tween Marmora and Lake and Deloro and noted.

one of the things I found was that both parties want to have to do this. He stressed it doesn't make sense to do it if you don't want to.

Cathic Jones of Marmora Village simply said she would like to see them walk before they run

It's sad to say but I think the reason we haven't done this is simply because of personality conflicts. Jones noted Russ Mitchell, also of Marmora Village, said he couldn't see an amatgamation without Centre Hastings. Madoc Township. Tweed and Stirling

While a lot of discussion was done the meeting was simply to get a feel for where each municipality stood and after some questions from the public and a few more comments from councils the meeting adjourned with no date set for the next discussions

Speeding problems plague Community Issues Committee

by W. Brice McVicar

An issue of speeding resulted in raised voices and lengthy discussion at the November 16th Community Issues Committee meeting.

Robert Legate, a resident Douglas Road in Huntingdon Ward of Centre Hastings, attended the meeting to discuss the problem of vehicles travelling at rates of speed which are too fast for that particular road.

The road is non-posted and therefore is blanketed in the province-wide 80 kilometre per hour limit. Legate explained that even though vehicles are not travng at that speed they are still driving too fast and could cause a serious accident or even death.

It's not really a speeding issue because it's an unposted road so legally people can drive 80 kilo metres an hour, 'Legate told the committee. He went on to explain that he had placed a videocamera on the dash of his car and had then proceeded to drive the road at 80, 60 and 40 kilometres an hour and attempt to make emergency stops variously at each speed. He said the only speed that the stops were made in a somewhat controllable manner was at they've walked the road He said the road is very narrow and has many curves and slopes which makes it impossible to drive at 80 kilometres safely

Legate said there are about "four hot spots" on the road that are dangerous and he said he is aware of about 13 children that live along the road and he's concerned for their safety as well as the safety of his own children.

Community Issues Committee meeting

Legate stated this 80 kilometre speed posting makes it impossible for police to 'speeders' because drivers generally aren't actually going over the speed limit but are simply driving at speeds where the road is -negotiable He stressed that it should be posted and he's hoping it will be posted at 40 kilometres per hour

Former RCMP officer and OPP Auxiliary Consta-ble Nic Robinson told Leeate that he had heard he was planning on a petition and told him that was a idea. He also added that the people who drive at a toohigh-rate of speed could possibly be people who live in the area and, by talking with his neighbours, the problem may be somewhat

Legate said he didn't believe it was a neighbour and explained he was walking once and was almost hit once by a Ford Aerostar vehicle and the man who was driving it physically threatened him. He also noted another incident where he was nearly hit by a Ford Escort

When you start posting a road, and even then the province hasn't come out with minimal standards

so people are waiting for that, then there's a much higher degree in cost of what vou have to do with the road There's got to be much higher standards Posting actual speeds and having signs that are not enforced is almost as bad as not having any sign," Robinson pointed out

"Having a police force that can't do anything because of an inappropriate situation is no good either. Legate said

Robinson and OPP Sgt Jeff Brooks explained what Legate is discussing is not in fact speeders but people who are driving carclessly and not in consideration of the circumstances. They both explained just because the road is posted at 80 does not mean you have to drive that speed.

Robinson said he didn't feel a speed sign would be the ultimate solution, he wanted to find what else could be done effectively

Legate asked him what options there were and said he could not understand his train of thought.

When Legate again stressed that posting the road was the only solution he could see Robinson added that might be a part of the solution but it wasn't going to make the problem disappear.

Sgt. Brooks told Legate that while a speed limit sign is in a long range plan he wanted to hear if there were any other "quick fixes" that could be utilized

When Legate became upset and began to raise his voice Robinson quickly commented. We can go on describing the problems and getting upset but we've got added in both situations where Legate was nearly hit something could have been done, the licence plate numbers could have been taken from each vehicle Legate told Robinson that was the last thing on his mind as he was trying to protect his wife and children from being run over

When Winn Rollins questioned Legate whether he wanted to go after the municipality or the people speeding Legate said he wanted to give the police the tools to lay charges. Again, Brooks and Robinson pointed out the tools are there as these people are driving carelessly and recklessly, which they can be charged for.

When Robinson said it would be better if the people on that road had specific complaints, such as certain cars that drive recklessly on that road, rather than simply speeders Legate stated he was "tired of people giv-ing me reasons why things can't be done in this municipality

Legate stormed out of the meeting only to return to place a videotape of his driving on Douglas Road on the table and tell Sgt. Brook and Robinson that the tape would prove he was right and they could watch it "if you have the guts."

The committee discussed some of the other options that were talked about to deal with the Doug-las Road issue before ad-

Hastings Housing Resource Centre assists residents in finding homes

by W. Brice McVicar

People looking for affordable housing in the Centre Hastings area now have a resource centre to turn to for help for help

As of mid-July of this year the Hastings Housing Resource Centro officially began servicine this area and have already helped 64 chemts. 30 of which have found affordable housing

Reta Sheppard, Housing Co-ordinator, explained, "We provide affordable housing listings for people in Hastings Count, that are looking for a place to rent We have contacts for emergencies, temporary and permanent housing."

manent housing.
Sheppard stated a lot of land-lords rent on the higher end of the totem pole and Hastings Housing Resource Centre does not list those available homes, they have a price range they have set and try to zero in on that "We are a non-profit agency. We are funded by three sources, the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing, the United Way of Quinte and we've received money from the Provincial Homeless Initiative Fund and that is the money that has allowed us to expand our services to allow us to service Centre Hastings and North Hastings."

There are two locations in Madoc where the Hastings Housing Resource Centre can be found Sheppard explained. "We are working with housing boards there. As you can imagine, being non-profit our finances tend to be lumited so what we have are some housing boards which are set up in two locations in Madoc presently, one is at the Oniano Works office at the Oniano Works office at the Russell Street and the other board is at 108 Russell Street which is the Madoc Resource Centre. We are also looking to expand into Tweed and hope to have a board at the Gateway Community. Health Centre but that hasn't been established

Though they've been around for approximately ten years don't be surprised if you have not heard of them. Sheppard noted that could be because they have been mainly focused on South Hastings up until the money was received from the Provincial Homeless Initiative Fund. Their funding, up until then, only covered the southern aspect of the county including Beleville and Quinte West.

Sheppard quoted figures of people they have helpod in the South Hastings area and stated they saw roughly 1200 to 1300 families a year. Their success rate averages at about 80%.

"We also keep in touch withour clients," she added, "so after they've found housing three months after they've moved in we do a last check-in to make sure that their housing is still stable, that they're not in risk of losing their housing. That's when we feel that we've become successful."

we've become successful."
The Hastings Housing Resource Centre compiles their list of accomodations by contacting landlords, talk-and let them know about the service, which is free They inform the landlords that they do not interfere with the rental policies, they are simply referring poten-

hal renters their was "Recently, it's been more families and single parent families." Sheppard noted on their clients "We are affiliated with Youth Habilitation so we do tend to see a lot of youth but it's pretty even across the board but it would be slightly higher with the lamilies in the past, anywhere from 65 to 75 percent of our clients are either homeless or at risk ofbecoming homeless.

The Housing Resource Centre receives a great deal of its clients through referrals from other agencies and other clients will refer their friends because they've been pleased with the service.

Another was that we're planning to be able to service Centre and North Hassings more effectively is that we are putting together a web-site. While our chents may not have a computer themselves but most people know somebody who's got a computer or, if they re linked up with another agency, most agencies are on the Internet. Sheppard added

New manager at Madoc Co-op

by W. Brice McVicar

With Mike Stevens leaving his position as manager of the local Co-op someone had to be found to fill his place.

That man is Gary MacDonald.

MacDonald, who comes to us from Thunder Bay, explained he was the manager of the Thunder Bay Co-op for eight years and is extremely happy to find himself in this area

"I was looking for a change;" MacDonald simply stated when asked how he came to this area

Married with four stepchildren, MacDonald says he is pretty much a home person. He is now living in Thomasburg and, now that he is living in a smaller community, is hoping "to become involved in more local events in Madoc. Tweed and Thomasburg." Stating that he doesn't enjoy cities at all MacDonald said Madoc suits him just fine.

Prior to be associated with the Co-op MacDonald worked in construction and with CN Rail. He said he is bringing "a positive attitude some vision, some plan changes, and expansion" to the Co-op MacDonald adamantly stated he hates to talk about himself and noted. "Imblessed that I've got great staff to work with at all three locations. They bring to this position a wealth of experience that I will be utilizing as much as possible. They are going to make this job so much caster. The strength of your Co-op is in your employees ad they have fantastic employees." MacDonald also added he's working with a great Board of Directors who are concerned about their Co-op.

Public support high for new regional hospital

PRHC officials talk to local residents during town hall visit

By Bill Freeman

Asphodel-Norwood -

The campaign to bring a new state-of-the-art reterborough continues to rethe general public and local

obtacions at all levels
So fin a s been really ositive it s the most expensive not the three op tions but a herally the opinion is that health care is worth at said Mary Anne Shilt Vice, Fresident for community Care at Peter-borough Regional Health Centre (PRHC), in an inter-view during a Nov. 10 information session at the forwood Town Hall

the town hall drop-in was the first of three schedaled county meetings designed to gather input from local residents and generate support for a new facil-

Following the recommendations of the prov-ince's Health Services Restructuring Commission (HSRC), the PRHC is preparing for an enlarged role as a 'regional referral cen-tre' with the consolidation of the city's two hospitals at one location, an expansion of in-patient beds by 120, the addition of four operating rooms, increased out-patient services and the expansion of health and diagnostic services like the heart cath lab and an MR.1

With these recommendations, the HSRC also al-located $53.4 million which it felt would be adequate to meet the expanded demands of a regional centre

But an analysis done by the PRHC clearly indicates that the $53.4 million is not nearly enough to cover the costs of an expanded health one that would meet the Commission's key recommendations.
The HSRC did not study

the current building's aging

That was not part of its mandate. The oldest parts of the building date from 1947 and 1962

With this in mind, the PRHC and its consultants have developed a "func-tional plan" that outlines three options, each addressing the HSRC recommendations and capital strate-

The first option ($125.7 million) includes the HSRC recommendations, the demolition of the Nichols Building, keeping the same number of beds in the existing building with some new construction to accommo-date the 120 hospital beds, four new operating rooms and diagnostic imaging.

While this is the least costly alternative, it is also the option that has been completely rejected by the PRHC because it leaves far too many areas of the existing building in need of improvement and could simply not meet the modern demands of health care sérvices

The second option, at $145 million, includes all of the first option's plans but would also move most of the in-patient programs to a new building The space in the current building would be used in its current condition

This plan would be phased in over a ten-year period but would be disruptive to patients and staff. It does not address the problems connected to the outdated mechanical and support systems in the existing building.

The re-development costs over that ten-year period would also be very ex-

The preferred PRHC option, at $189 million, is the most expensive but calls for a completely new facility that could be completed within a five-year period with no patient disruption because the current facility would be used during construction

The intensive care and emergency wing would re-main and would be used for offices, out-patient care or other PRHC needs

The reason the Board of Directors voted for the third option was that it was a new hospital, Ms. Shill said.

It was completely brand new There was no need to have renovations going on around the patients while they were still in the hospi-"she says. The "main reason" for tal the new hospital option. Ms Shill pointed out, is "behind the walls.

All of the mechanical and electrical supports for the (current) hospital are aging and at end of their useful life and need replacing, she said

Also, the building as it stands does not really support the type of care that we give now. It was okay 50

The rooms, she says aren't large enough for pa-tients and equipment, the floor-to-ceiling heights are too low; the hallways are too narrow as are some of the elevators; and the physical structure is simply out-

The current facility's design severely limits effective renovation.

There is also a lack of adequate air circulation and the high summer temperatures create patient care is-

Option A is out of the picture It doesn't do cnough, 'she says. ''So it's cither ''B'' or ''C. ''Regardless of which we go with, we'll have the same services but it will be much easier and more efficient to deliver them in a new buildshe said.

It would be better to rethan invest significant amounts of money in redevelopment, she adds.

The PRHC's consulting team says the 'old building cannot be truly remedied through redevelopment regardless of the capital expended.

Ms. Shill says the HSRC was "quite up front" when they said they were not there to look at the building nor worry about upgrades.

They say this is what you need, this is what you should do.

Following their "template" they came up with

"Why are we any less deserving than any other places that have (or will get) new hospitals.'

Mary Anne Shill Peterborough Regional Health Centre

the first option which, she says, is just "a little bit of

"But we'd still have just as much of the old and that was simply not feasible, she

Ms. Shill says they sat down with a team of health planners and asked them to design a plan based on the HSRC recommendations. What they came up with was a figure of $125 million "just to do that little bit" -- far above the $54 million the commission had

Even though the new hospital is the most expensive at $190 million, Ms. Shill says in the long-term it is most efficient and comes with a clear financial strategy to cover development

If approved, the government would meet 70 per cent of the costs ($133 mil-lion) with the community raising the remaining $56.9 million.

Ten million of that would come through a traditional fundraising campaign, $17.78 through bed revenue amortized over 25 years and $29.1 million over 25 years through municipal support. Ms. Shill also says financial studies indicate that new hospital development will generate at least $175 million in local economic benefits during the construction phase and another $42 million annually after it is open.

9-1-1 service arrives Monday

Emergency service will be officially "activated" in Keene

Peterborough Cty. -The long-awaited 9-1-1 emergency service will be activated in Peterborough County Nov. 22.

The single emergency number makes it faster and easier for anyone to reach police, fire or ambulance services. All 9-1-1 calls originating in Peterbor-ough County will be answered at a Central Emergency Reporting Bureau (C.E.R.B.) and from this bureau calls will be selec-tively routed through the 9-1-1 network to the appropriate police, fire or ambulance department based on the caller's civic address.

With the County's enhanced 9-1-1 system, dispatchers receive both voice communication with the caller and information on the caller's name, telephone number and civic address through a compu-ter terminal and printer installed at the dispatch locations.

Every phone subscriber will be charged 32 cents on their monthly phone bill to help support the dedi-cated 9-1-1 network. This rate has been approved by the CRTC and is the standard rate across Ontario. All residents of Peter-

Sr. Black Tyke Hornets take bite out of Sharks

Asphodel-Norwood -After a tough tilt with the Douro Dukes, the Centen nial Pharmacy/Birdsall Beach Trailer Park senior Black Tyke Hornets were determined to show a total team effort against the Omemee Sharks. The young tykesters didn't disappoint their fans as they showed 110 per cent hustle and determination to be the first team on the puck at either end of the rink

The pay-off was a solid 6-1 win for the Hornets Michael Loucks had three goals and one assist while Steven Walsh fired in two goals. Matthew Zenner added a goal and an assist. Loucks first make was a top-shelf effort due strongly to some good checking by Chase Baptic along the right wing. Loucks' next marker came on a great second effort as the veteran forward chipped the puck while laying on the ice.

Walsh played a strong two-way match and dented the twine in the first period with a rocket wrister to the middle of the net as well as another on a breakaway midway through the second

Zenner tallied his lone, marker on a breakaway as he pulled away from his check and made no mistake in beating the Sharks

Players of the Week: Brandon Kingston gets the coach's nod as co-player of the week as he demonstrated exceptional hustle in both ends of the ice during the Douro match as well in the Sharks game. Brandon's checking ability has greatly improved and gave him several scoring chances over the past week...Michael Loucks also earned co-player of the week honours as he demonstrated his finesse around the net, playmaking ability and an undying desire to do battle in both ends of the ice... Hats off to both Brandon and Michael for their accom-plishments. The cheque is in the mail!!

Bulldogs nip away at Hornets

Asphodel-Norwood -The Percy Bulldogs made good use of a five-minutes second period lapse by the Stewart Motors midget Homets to skate away with a 6-2 Remembrance Day

Andrew Brown scored the lone first period goal giving the large and aggressive 'Dogs a 1-0 lead. They extended their lead with three straight second period powerplay goals off the sticks of David Fischer. Brad Marchman and Geor-dic Nelson Fischer's second of the period made it 5-0. The Hornets woke up in the third with two powerplay goals by Kyle Patterson. Tyler Spooner picked up two assists while Jason Noffke added a single helper

The Hornets' inability to capitalize on chances and lack of finish around the net continues to haunt the squad, coach Greg Hartwick says

"We had two back-toback five on three powerplays -- each for a full two minutes -- and were unable to get any good shots or good scoring chances," said Coach Hartwick

Winter driving tips

Canada's harsh winter conditions can make driving a difficult and sometimes dangerous challenge for even the most experienced motorists. These simple, common sense tips from the experts can help put you and your family on the road to safety when the roads are covered with ice and snow

First, make sure your vehicle is in good condi-tion. This means everything from windshield wipers to brakes to maintenance Most importantly, prepare for the onslaught of winter by having the right tires Winter tires are your best choice to maximize driving safety in all possible winter conditions. New advances in winter tire technology have helped to develop tire technology have helped to develop tires. This new high traction tire can ensure driving control on either ice or snow-covered roads

Take control of the road this winter

Winter driving can be serious and sometimes very dangerous business. Keeping control of your vehicle on snow and ice-covered roads is crucial to avoid collisions

According to Transport Canada, more than 12,600 Canadians were injured in traffic accidents caused in part by winter conditions. such as snow, freezing rain, hail and sleet (1996 study)

Winter collisions usually occur because of vehicles skidding out of control. A skid occurs when you apply the brakes so hard that one of more wheels lock, or if you press too hard on the accelerator and spin the drive wheels. Skids can also occur when you are travelling too fast on a curve and suddenly hit an icy or slip-

The best way to avoid skids is to anticipate lane changes, turns and curves by slowing down in advance and by making smooth precise movements when steering. Also help protect yourself and your family from collisions due to skids by improving your winter driving performance with win-ter tires. Winter tires give you the best chance of maintaining ultimate traction on ice and snow covered roads. Regardless of the type of skid you encounter, the key to regaining control of your vehicle is not to panic.

Watch next week's paper for more car care.

ing the roads, begin the dreaded digging-out process by starting your vehicle to get your engine warth Be careful, do not attempt this until you have cleared all the snow away from the tailpipe area. Snow near the tailpipe will force engine exhaust back into the system, which could in turn seep inside the vehicle.

* Although it's tempting to use the front of your car as a snowplow, try to shovel as much snow away from the front of the vehicle as possible. Snowplowing could cause damage to the undercarriage or the engine and transmission of your vehicle. When the snow is cleared and the vehicle is warm, it is important to pull away slowly. If you apply too much gas, the wheels will spin and you could get

* If you do get stuck avoid expressing your frustration by gunning the en-gine. This is the worst thing you can do. When the wheels spin, they generate heat and melt the surrounding snow, which can quickly turn into ice, reducing your chances of getting anywhere

Give yourself more time to reach your destina-tion, and don't allow other drivers to bully you into driving at speeds that are unsafe. Simply get out of the way if they attempt to * Make sure to turn on headlights and taillights during gray winter days to make your vehicle more visible to other drivers • In a skid, ease off the accelerator and do not lock the brakes, Carefully steer in the direction you want the vehicle to go and straighten the wheel as soon as the vehicle begins to go in the desired direction

* Finally, remember to bring along a winter sur-vival kit This should include an ice scraper and brush, a shovel, booster cables, a flashlight, flares, blankets, a candle and a supply of non-perishable

Ready for anything

de emergency give you a breakdown Assemble your own travelling emergency road kit to prepare for most problems. Whether you are a new car owner or haven't vet thought about emergency proparation, carrying enuals can make the difference between in-onvenience and disaster They also make thoughtful gifts for someone you know with a new ear

One of the best tools in an emergency can be your cellular phone. Even if you don't know where you are, or are stranded somewhere remote, at least you can call for help. Be sure you also carry the card and phone number of your emergency service

You won't get far with a dead battery, so carry a set of good quality jumper ca-bles. Better still, carry a portable power source so you won't have to depend on a stranger

The Canadian Automobile Association answered almost 300,000 calls for tire service in 1997. Be sure your jack and spare tire are in the car at all times. Still, in many cases, you may still break down in an area that's not safe or convenient for making a tire change. You can spend less time risking life and limb on the high-way by using a good tire inflator. These aerosols quickly seal most punctures and provide enough pressure to let you drive to the nearest garage.

To make yourself visible to oncoming motorists, keep handy in your own vehicle a white cloth for tving on your antenna and flares and reflectors for breakdowns at night. Also carry a first-aid kit for emergencies Bottled water and food are good to have for long waits, but tuck them away to you won't be tempted to dip into them on a regular road trip.

Finally, remember that a well-maintained vehicle runs less risk of breakdown in the first place. Avoid cooling system failure (the major engine-related cause of roadside breakdowns) by changing your antifreeze coolant regularly. And, don't forget to fill the gas tank

Winter driving 101: skid control

Here are some helpful tips to keep in mind from the experts at the Canadian Automobile Association (CAA) that can help you keep control of your car during rear-wheel and front-wheel skids this win-

Rear-wheel skids

The most effective way get your vehicle back under control during a skid is as follows.

* Remove your foot from the brake or accelerator.

* Make sure you de-clutch on a car with a manual transmission, or shift to neutral on a car with automatic transmission.

* Look and steer in the direction you want the front of the car to go.

As the rear wheels stop skidding to the right or left. calmly counter-steer until you are going in the desired

* In a rear-wheel drive vehicle, if you over-correct the first skid, be prepared for a rear-wheel skid in the opposite direction. Practice and the use of timely, gentle movement on the steering wheel are necessary to avoid this type of skid

* Once the vehicle is straight, release the clutch or shift to drive, apply gentle accelerator pressure so that the engine speed matches the road speed, and accelerate smoothly to a safe speed.

Front-wheel skids

Hard braking or accel-cration most often causes front-wheel skids if your vehicle has front-wheel drive. When the front drive. wheels lose traction, you will not be able to steer the vehicle.
* If the front wheels have been turned prior to the loss of traction, don't move the steering wheel. Since the wheels are skidding sideways, a certain amount of braking force will be exerted.

* Wait for the front
the road wheels to grip the road again. As soon as traction returns, the vehicle will start to steer agai

When the front wheels have regained their grip, steer the wheels gently in the desired direction of travel. There is no risk at all of the car skidding in the opposite direction.

Help minimize the risk of skids and improve overall winter driving performance by using a set of four winter tires on your car.

How to avoid the "breakdown zone"

Picture this You find ourself working late one freezing winter night You're the last one to leave the building, so the frigid parking lot is empty except for your lone car. You try to start the engine only to find your hattery is dead. There is no one around and you're not too sure how safe this parking lot is. Without another car, your jumper ca-bles are useless You're in the Breakdown Zone

Most people don't relish that helpless feeling when the car breaks down or the battery dies. That's why it's important to be prepared for emergencies. Here's the latest on what every driver should have at the ready.

A portable jump starter and power source enables you to start your car or light truck without the use of another vehicle. It also serves as a useful source of portable power for a wide variety of recreational uses

1. Jumper cables have always been a key emergency essential. But these aren't much help if no one else is around to jump start your car. Now there's a new product which combines cables with a portable 12/ Volt battery with enough power to start up to 15 cars on a single charge.

2. Flashlights and spotlights help you see to make repairs at night and make it easier for oncoming drivers to see you.

3. Have a good quality, non-flammable tire inflator to help you inflate and seal your flat tire quickly and get off the road

4. Emergency flares or reflectors are important for visibility at night.

5: A cellular phone becomes your lifeline in an emergency, especially it it's unwise to leave the car. But be sure your batteries are in good condition in case your engine fails.

A first aid kit and drinking water.

7. For cold weather: an ice scraper, snow brush, deicing fluid and a traction

Prepare vour vehicle for the wrath of winter

Canadians have long become accustomed to en-during some of the most difficult weather conditions on earth. More recently, old man winter has tested the mettle and will of many Canadian motorists with record breaking snow and ice storms

Who could forget the devastating ice storm that ravaged the Montreal and Ottawa regions in January 1998, and the record snow fall that pounded the Toronto region last winter, leaving countless drivers skidding out of control.

One thing is now certain, when it comes to Canadian winters, drivers must be prepared for any adverse conditions--snow, ice, ex-treme cold temperatures, fog and wind before taking to the road. Gone are the days that you could simply rely on all-season tires for the best protection against such extreme winter driving conditions.

"Preparing your vehicle for winter is one of the most important things you can do for the safety of those you love, and others on the road," says Bryan Hunt road," says Bryan Hunt, President of the Canadian Automotive Association (CAA). "If you travel a lot on snow-covered roads, you should use four snow tires or all-season tires.'

The best way to ensure your family's safety this winter is with a premium winter tire that provides ul-timate traction on both ice and snow. According to Marie-France Lechasseur, it's rare that a winter tire is equipped to handle both snow and ice driving condi-

HOCKEY REPORT

by Sherri Carman

The Atom AE Grizzlies got off to a bit of a rough start this season but have persevered and it has paid off! This past week they treated us to two excellent games of hockey and I'd like to use this article to give them a major pat on the back Their first game this week was a road trip to Frankford to take on the Huskies. Frankford got on the board early with back to back goals. At the ten minute mark, Tyler Landry started the Grizzlies off with a goal passed up by Stephen Ferguson. The home team managed two more before the end of the first period. In the second the action was intense. Centre Hastings came out scrapping, less than a minute into the pe-riod Doug Sawicki banged one home assisted by Kyle Chamberlain and Grame Thompson. The Huskies answered back with two more back to back goals Before the end of the second our Grizzlies had found the mark again. Colby Bird carned the point and Stephen Ferguson the as-sist. The Huskies were shut down completely in the last period of play and neither team scored. If not for the slow start in the first this would have been a closer match. Centre Hastings played two even periods in this game, way to rally back

On November 15th this Atom AE team played host to Campbellford, in Madoc. At 13:59 in the first, Darryl English started things off for the home team with a beauty goal passed up by Derek Anderson. The Colts quickly recovered and by the end of the period it was 3-1 for the visitors. The secgame belonged to the Grizzlies, they took advantage of the only scoring oppor-tunity in the second. Doug Sawicki blistered this one between the pipes with passes from Derek Anderson and Bryson Anderson and Bryson Bennett. The board stayed at 3-2 until deep into the third when Campbellford padded their lead. The Grizzlies made things interest-ing at 4:14 left in the game. Steve Ferguson scored the goal and the assists went to Doug Sawicki and Bryson Bennett. This match ended in an "edge of your seat" 4-3 victory for the visiting Colts. Grizzlies Atom AE goalie Matthew Guindon took a ton of shots in this game, frustrating the oppo-nent. Hats off to you Matthew, keep up the good work!

I would like to bring you up to date on the Bantam DD team's progress so far this season. These Grizzlies have been mauling the competition from their season opener against Immaculate (Peterborough) that ended in a 6-0 victory, earning goalie Brandon Tapper a shut-out. Another Peterborough team, St. Pauls, got about the same treatment when they came to visit The Bantams took them down 10-1. Deseronto came last weekend and suffered a 13-2 decision at the hands of this hockey team.

Municipality offered $1,175,000 for Hydro Electric Utility

by W. Brice McVicar

The Municipality of Centre Hastings has been offered just over $1 million for the Centre Hastings Hydro Electric Utility from Ontario Hydro Services Company.

Reeve Tom Deline called a special council meeting on Monday, November 22nd to discuss the offered purchase. While the meeting had been called with the intent to complete the deal and make the purchase public matters arose and things did not end up that way.

I believe the municipality is on record in making the decision to sell the local hydro utility and up until this stage it has been the intent to sell either to a local firm or Ontario Hydro Reeve Deline stated at the beginning of the meeting. He told those in attendance that there has been an appraisal done of the utility and they are basing their facts on different meetings council members have attended and on informa in a magazine called Mu-nicipal World Deline noted the article had stated you need 70,000 customers to operate a line system and 400,000 to financially opcrate a selling system.

"We do have a letter of intent from Campbellford Seymour (Public Utilities Commission) and we also have a letter of intent including our pricing from Ontario Hydro, Mark Campbell and Bill Sabowski from Campbellford/Seymour Public Utilities Commission in attendance Deline noted council had already agreed to sell to

Ontario Hydro

"I'll be quite blunt and quite up front with everyone." Deline said. "we feel, from our basis, that if we are going to sell that probably one of the best basis to do it is to go with a firm like Ontario Hydro that is in the area and does surround the municipality."

Deline went on to explain that the money from the sale would be put in a reserve fund to be used in the urban centre. That motion was moved by Councillor David Schulz and seconded by Councillor Creighton Harrop. Invited to talk with council Mark Campbell told Deline he wasn't really prepared to say too much at that time but did note they could provide alternatives to selling the utility to Ontario Hydro

"I think what we could bring to the table that others may not be able to is in the level of service." Campbell stated. 'In the areas currently serviced by Ontario Hydroit's a large geographical area that they service with a call centre in Markham with a 1-800 number to notify their service people of your concerns or the issues in the area We, of course, would be within a 20 or 25 minute drive and scheduled work wouldn't be an issue with us. For scheduled work we do be able to have crews here to do the work, if d be emergency work that a we will be looking to create an alternative so that we could carry out a very timely response.

Campbell noted hydro rates will be controlled by the Ontario Energy Board but they rates will be going up no matter who their choice of supplier may be The cost factor will be an issue for customers and, as he noted, they need to be aware that the rates will be count up

That II be an issue for your customers because it Commend on page 2

School council wants parental involvement

by W. Brice McVicar

The Madoc Public School council is interested in having parents involved in the education of their children. As a matter of fact, it's part of the council's mandate.

Mark Lucas, Public Relations for the council, explained this is an ongoing issue with the council.

issue with the council.

"We're going to be doing a survey of the parents, the community, the teachers and students and non-teaching staff, everyone that's involved in the community. We're going to try to reach out to as many people as possible to see what the community feels the priorities within the school should be," Lucas stated. He explained there are quite a few areas outside of the regular curriculum that go on at the school such as fundraising.

That's one area that is very high profile. The Board guidelines are very clear on this issue, you have to identify the areas that you are going to raise funds in before you set out to raise the money and then you have to report how you spent the funds to the parents after the money's been spent. Over the last year or two we have been improving that process but we haven't involved as many people as we could have. * he said. Lucas went on to say the council has concentrated on play-ground equipment and other resources inside the school over the past few years. Now, they're going to send out the survey to the parents with a list of things that the school needs, the parents will be asked to check off items on a most important/least important basis. Some of these items include new chairs for the auditorium, a school newspaper, an area of tarmas that's cracked and needs to be replaced, air conditioning, computers and other concerns.

"There's quite a number of areas where dollars are needed," Lucas pointed out. "What is it the community wants us to raise funds for and spend the money on? We're in the process of establishing that and, of course, we have very little say over the Board account but the non-Board accounts, our fundraising accounts we want to go to the committy and find out what they

Lucas explained rather than having different people complaining over where the funds should be spent the survey process will give the council an accurate idea of where the community would like to see funds used.

"We are going to try to get as much feedback as we possibly can to identify our budget priorities. That's khat we're doing in that area and we are doing it in conjunction with the fundraising committee," he said

$1,175,000 for Hydro Electric Utility

Continued from page 1 will be a rate increase. The other thing that your cus-tomers will be concerned with is service and as I've said, that's where I think we have the opportunity toprovide you or your customers with an increased walue, "Campbell stated When it comes to wires Campbell said a smaller utility, such as themselves. would be able to be very competitive and produce competitive rates and purchase prices. He explained Campbellford wants to be in the smaller bracket with 10 to 20,000 customers and, having worked with the OBE over the past few months, feels they can be very competitive Campbell explained, "that we be allowed a few weeks to put a proposal together and submit it for your consideration In my letter to Mr Parks (Clerk of Centre Hastings) I've indicated that understand the urgency of this issue, I understand that you're probably ready to make a decision because you've spent a fair amount of time on this issue already and want to move forward but again-I would ask for three weeks to be able to submit a proper proposal. Deline explained they would try to let them know by the end of the day and pointed out they had received the formal letter from Ontario Hidro He also added they felt the offer was reasonable from Ontario Hydro and said they don't want to get caught up in the final moments

Deanna Snider told

Deline she agreed with Campbell in his statement that Campbellford/Seymour would be able to provide better service and emergency response and she felt they would handle it better from their area than it would be handled by Ontario Hydro

Deline thanked Campbell for attending and told him he was more than welcome to stay for the rest of the meeting which he

'The Reeve then asked Robert Nickle of Nickle Electric if he wished to bring anything to council's attention and Nickle said he'd be interested in putting in an offer on the utility but wouldn't be able to do it for another two days.

Deline said that was fine and he felt council could wait two extra days to see an offer from Nickle Electric and also told Campbell if Campbellford/Scymour could get a bid in within two days they too would be considered

Clerk Doug Parks then noted it wouldn't be fair to allow Campbellford to bid because they had seen the amount Ontario Hydro was offering. Parks explained the figure was on a letter received from Ontario Hywhich had been included in the agenda packseen by not only Campbell but others in attendance. Having this pointed out to him Deline stated, "I've got to do some thinking on that one, that's not a very good way to do competition. Well, let's put it this way then, council it's up to you to make the document public and if that's the case then anyone else willing to put a bid in better be ready to raise the ante fairly sub-stantially." With that council decided to make the document public. At the November 24th council meeting it was noted by Clerk Doug Parks that WINTER DELIVERY

Remembering that this is the International Year of the Older Person, roll call was answered by suggesting ways in which we can assist older persons to make life

A thank you letter from Warden Doug Mumford was read thanking the Institute for the delicious dinner served to him and his guests on October 15th.

With proceeds from this banquet and others held during the year it was de-cided to donate $3000 to the Madoc Township Fire Department to purchase and install more dry hydrants in the northern part of the Township. These hydrants with their underground piping system allows pumpers easier access to the water supply during both winter and summer months.

Denelda Foley then introduced her guest Jill MacDonald who spoke on depression: Together with member involvement and use of charts, she outlined the symptoms, causes and possible treatment of this disease

Jill has in her charge several people who do suffer from various mental disorders.
She encourages us to educate ourselves to gai better understanding of this disease which is a biochemical brain disorder She stresses that this condition is very treatable and people do not need to suffer in silence but see their doctor to begin treatment.

It is encouraging that vitalization Planstill rated as a high priority by the Municipality of Campbellford/ Seymour, an application for support has been directed to the Canada Millennium Partnership Program.

The goal of the plan is to make the waterfront in the urban core more attractive. accessible, usable and sustamable

Campbellford's waterfront is along the Trent River and Trent Canal and is part of the Trent-Severn Waterway system. As a result, it will take advantage of and celebrate the canal as a world-class Canadian achievement.

One of the key components of the Waterfront Revitalization Plan is the completion of the riverwalk

When completed, it will form circuit Campbellford's central business district along the canal and across the river, returning back across the canal to the business district. The riverwalk will also be part of the Trans Canada Irail. By forging a connection between these two na-tional, historic transportation corridors, Campbellford's waterfront is in a unique

It celebrates the achievement of Canadians in creating a water-based transportation corridor and a landbased trail corridor which follows the path of the former railway lines. This also provides an opportunity to explore the country by land or by water and to learn more about the natural setting of the river and the cultural impact that our waterways and railways played in shaping our society.

The plan has many community partners and is sup-ported by the Municipality of Campbellford/Seymour; the Public Utilities Commission; the BIA and Chamber of Commerce; Campbellford Rotary Club; Eastern Ontario Trails Alliance: Ontario Power Corporation; the Campbellford/ Seymour Heritage Society; and the Trent-Severn Wa-

The Strategic Plan also recognizes the importance of the waterfront as a tour-ism destination built upon its key natural asset, the Trent River, and by offering urban travellers a taste of rural life.

Rebs end 5-game losing streak by shading Jets

Stellar goaltending by Scott Metcalfe and an improved overall defensive effort combined to lift the sagging Campbellford Rebels out of a disastrous five-game losing streak last Sunday.

With Metcalfe kicking aside 26 of the 29 shots fired his way, the Rebels turned back the Amherstview Jets 5-3 on Amherstview ice in an Empire League Junior C confidence-builder.

After five consecutive defeats, several of the one-goal variety, Rebel coach Doug Matthews and the players were wondering when the breaks would start evening out.

Topping the Jets was particularly refreshing for the Rebels following an 8-5 loss Nov. 18th at the hands of the front-running Picton Pi-rates and an 8-6 setback to the Little Britain Merchants. The loss to the Merchants was particularly frustrating for the Rebs as Little Britain scored twice within eight seconds in the final minute of the game Campbellfordice.

Rebels showed signs of getting back on track in Amherstsview, taking a 1-0 lead and battling hard to retain a 4-3 lead after two periods. Then the Rebs tight-ened up defensively and added the only goal of the final 20 minutes as Ryan Culhane scored on a setup from Anthony Davis to get back into the win column.

Two-goal Producer

Davis was the big gun offensively with two goals for the Rebels, singles going to Nick Bertrand and defenceman Jack McLaren. Jamie McComb also turned in a strong game, earning two assists.

Amherstview got two goals from Jon Hall and one from Darryl Eimers.

Next home game for the Rebs is Saturday, Nov. 27th when they meet Georgina Ice of the Central League. In the first meeting, Rebels won with an empty net goal in connected. the last minute of play to seal a 4-2 verdict At Picton, Rebels scored seven even-strength goals but unfortunately two of them accidentally slipped into their own net in a pecu-liar contest. Pirates added insult to injury by scoring four power play goals and one shorthanded.

Mark Allen and Nathan Vader led the potent Picton attack with two goals each. while Wayne Brown, C. J. Thompson, Shane Cutler and Kevin Ayres added sin-gles. Ryan Toms and Nick Bertrand each responded with two goals for the Rebels and Jamie McComb also

McComb Shines

Little Britain escaped with a victory despite a torrid five-point performance from Jamie McComb, who scored three times and assisted on two others by Adam Brown and Kevin Cork. Rvan Broek added a first period goal for the Rebels.

Martin Clancy, Mike Lucas and Jeremy Farreach broke through for two goals broke through for two goals to spearhead the Little Brit-ain attack. It was a goal by Jon Perrin that broke the 6-6 tie late in the final period, however, and then Farr's second goal with 45 seconds remaining sealed the ver-

Three of the ska's best are coming to town

Okay boys and girls. Here's your big chance. Dolans is presenting three, count 'em, three of Cana-da's best ska bands -- the Planet Smashers, the King-pins and the Undercovers on Dec. 4 -- all from Stomp, the best little ska record company anywhere.

If you have an interest in ska at all, this is the place to

I saw the Planet Smashers at NxNE earlier this er. They were the second band on and they tore the house down. Automatic dancing. Here's my reviews of the other two band's dises. The Kingpins' Let's Go

To Work' (Stomp). . The Kingpin's sophomoric disc "Let's Go To Work' is an absolutely stupendous mish-mash of Ska stylings. I don't know where to begin ... everything sounds so ... authentic.

Fifties and sixties slightly cheesy jingoistic pop, bubbling burping Jamaican style guitar, slippery riddims that at times get awfully close to swing - sound and soundtrack/sitcom fluff.

I hear traces of Louis Jordan and Cab Calloway filtered through the wacky lounge lizard sensibilities of Kid Creole and the Co-

Does this make sense? It's a wildly eclectic aural soundscape, riveted to Ska's skanky beat. I can see this cranked up in a car full of kids. Happy, happy. School's out.

It's more than that, though. On the strength of the songs, cool male and female vocals, incredible amalgam of influences and formidable chops all round. This pretty much makes the Kingpins the lords and mas-ters of the realm. The #1 pre-eminent Canadian ska hand

This record has so much going (and) could please so many people. It has the po-tential to be the Ska disc to crossover, get airplay and enlighten a lot of people to the joy of Skadom.

The Undercovers:
"Some People" (Stomp Records)

Rock and Roll is so mercenary. It will stomp and musical pillage anv territory. Third wave ska is the product of So Cal/Pop punk pillage. The 2nd wave ska, of the Specials. The English Beat and Madness with a healthy dose of the Clash, is what gets ravished. It makes absolute sense. The fast upbeat skank sidles right up close to punk's pogo and alt-rocks mosh mayhem. Montreal's West Island burn boys, the Undercovers, jump all over ska's beatcrazy, push-to-party, with their first disc "Some Peo-Ska record label Stomp knew it right from the beginning and grabbed 'cm up. The Undercovers youthful energy, awesome chops (for pups) and through understanding of the pu ska blend is perfect fodder for the campus radio crowd or anyone else for that matter. It's so freakin' insistent

How snowflakes can improve your tire performance

How can this be? Snowflakes can only deteriorate tire performance, right? But we're not talking about the regular white stuff here You know, the powder snow that brings a smile to the face of the avid skier, but a frown to the face of the average motorist

No the snowflakes we're referring to are the symbols of a new certification category developed by the Rubber Association of Canada (RAC) to designate winter tires that have met performance criteria in severe snow, conditions To qualify, a tire maker must certify that the tire in question is at least 10 per cent better than a Standard Reference Test Tire in start-

Idling--it's hard on your vehicle and your pocketbook

Many Canadian motorist's fall into the winter idling trap - after all, running the engine helps warm up the vehicle, right? Studies have shown that idling is an enormous waste of fuel and money, gener-ates unnecessary exhaust emissions and can be hard

Here's the problem. Fuel consumption and pollution output are much higher in the first couple of minutes after a cold start than when the engine has achieved its normal operating temperature. The quickest way to reach this temperature is to drive the vehicle

As well, excessive idling an be hard on your engine because fuel combustion is incomplete and some fuel residues condense on cylinder walls, where they can contaminate oil and damage engine components. Besides, idling only warms up the engine, not the wheel bearings, steering, suspension, transmission and tires, all of which can be done only when the vehicle is moving

There is also an environ mental cost to idling. If all Canadian motorists avoided idling their vehicles for just five minutes a day, more than 1.4 million tonnes of carbon dioxide would spared from entering the atmosphere and contributing to climate change

The bottom line is this: once a vehicle is running, the best way to warm it up is to drive it. With today's engines, you need no more than 30 seconds of idling on winter days before driving away. Except at a traffic signal or in slow-moving traffic, it's also a good idea to turn off the engine if you are going to be stopped for 10 seconds or more.

* Don't idle your vehicle to warm it up--it's better to drive it. Any more than 30 seconds of idling on winter days simply wastes fuel and increases emissions.

Check tire pressures regularly, especially after there has been a sharp drop in temperature (more than 15 degrees C). Cold temperatures decrease the air pressure in tires, which adds pressure in tires, which adds to the rolling resistance caused by snow and slush. * If you use ski racks, it's a good idea to remove them when they're not needed. Ski racks (even empty ones) increase a vehicle's acrodynamic drag, which in turn causes the engine to work harder and consume more fuel. The same applies to efficiency

Making the right choice of engine oil, combined with regular oil changes, is one of the easiest ways to get the most out of your vehicle at the least cost to you and the environment

Start by using the lowest multigrade of oil recommended in your owner's manual (usually 5W30 or 0W30). This will improve the engine's fuel efficiency, especially when starting it cold, which in turn will reduce emissions of carbon dioxide and other pollutants.

It's also a good idea to ask your mechanic to use an

"energy conserving" prod-uct when changing the oil Energy-conserving oils have been treated to be as slippery as possible and can reduce fuel consumption by more than two percent compared to a standard oil. "Synthetic" oil products are even better, although they are more expensive. For optimum engine per-formance, fuel efficiency and reduced emissions, use only the oil recommended in the owner's manual, and be sure to follow the manufacturer's recommenda-tions for oil and filter changes.

Reduce emissions while you add to your car's life

During the course of driving your car, deposits form in critical operation areas inside the engine Some of these deposits are not removed by just an oil and filter change, the smaller contaminates not captured by the filter keep circulating with the oil gases and ovvgen to form deposits inside the oil galleries in the engine

An Emission Service cleans and restores the areas inside an engine to re duce exhaust emissions and lengthen the life expectancy of the engine By cleaning the orf system, the fuel system and their related comnonents immediate and long-term benefits of increased power, lower fuel consumption and reduced emissions are noticed by the

Periodic engine cleaning is vital for a long engine life By removing sludge deposits and small contaminates from the crankcase, the new engine oil added at the time of an oil change offers better engine protection and reduced exhaust emissions

The air intake and fuel delivery systems also need periodic cleaning Using a oncentrated cleane through the intake manifold ensures smooth air flow into the engine promoting complete combustion of the air/ fuel mixture. By adding a fuel system cleaner to the fuel tank, to clean out contaminants, water, gums and varnish deposits that impair the delivery of the fuel. These deposits increase exhaust emissions and re-duced engine performance.

Carbon deposits also form inside the combustion chamber. These deposits can cause two problems They increase the compression ratio inside the combustion chamber which can increase octane requirement for the engine to pre-bon deposits also create hot bon deposits also create not spots, which prematurely ignite the air/fuel mixture before the spark plug, caus-ing pre-ignition resulting in poor performance and higher exhaust emissions.

As laws on emissions are introduced in different arcas of Canada, an Emission Service will become an essential consideration. help the environment by reducing emissions, at the same time, you'll be help-ing your car run more effi-ciently and last longer

Block heaters reduce engine wear and fuel consumption

Fuel consumption soars in cold weather--sometimes and that s hard on your pocketbook and the environment

When an engine starts up, it has to pump oil throughout the block to lubricate moving parts. In a cold engine, the oil is thick and resists flow, which means the engine has to work harder to overcome internal friction. Thick oil also takes longer to circu-

A block heater can belo address this problem by prewarming the engine's oil and coolant, which in turn warms the engine block and lubricants. As a result, the engine will start easier and reach its peak operating temperature faster.

Studies have shown that at -20 degrees C. block heaters can improve overall fuel economy by as much as 10 percent. For a single short trip on a old day, the fuel savings could be in the or-der of 20 percent.

Don't offset your fuel savings by operating the running up your electricity bill. Two hours is all the time needed to warm the engine For convenience an automatic timer can be used to switch on the block heater a couple of hours before you plan to drive the vehi-

Protect your engine for winter driving

Soon, it will be winter. when your car needs extra protection especially against the tough work of winter starting. When you start your car, the metal parts in the engine must wait until the pump circulates the the winter, when the oil in your parked vehicle is cold and thick, it takes a while to flow through the engine and coat the component surfaces. Until that happens. the oil is not protecting the

To make sure your engine is properly protected at start-up, it's important to keep lubricants on the engine parts even after it's switched off.

Part of the lubricant's job is to act against the many contaminants that invade the engine. Nine thousand litres of air is consumed for every litre of fuel - air loaded with abrasive dirt, moisture and chemicals that break down the oil. Unburned fuel, sludge, soot, acids and tinuously working to break down your oil reducing its ability to protect against metal wear or metal-tometal contact

Some people are wary of products containing Teflon, graphite, lead or chemicals like chlorine. Choose an additive that doesn't contain any of those substances and is completely compat-ible with all domestic and imported engines. Its chem-istry is designed to penetrate and bond with metal surfaces to smooth, seal and cushion engine parts so it solves the winter start-up problem, it also provides effective protection against heavy winter slogging con-ditions, which put extra stress on engine lubricants.

Put it in this fall and leave it in all year long to maximize your protection. Toughen up you engine's oil for the winter ahead and make sure your car keeps humming, even when the mercury drops.

Trip planning will save time and money

Racing against the clock is a costly habit at the best of times and can be particularly dangerous during the winter. when weather and road conditions demand extra caution One of the keys to safe, fuel-efficient driving is to give yourself plenty of time to get to your destination--and that requires good trip planning

Trip planning is especially important in the winter, because fuel consumption and pollution output are prach higher in the first minute or two after a cold start than when the engine has achieved its normal operating temperature. To make matters worse, the catalytic converter doesn't work at its optimum until it reaches its own operating temperature, which means that an engine's emissions pass through the exhaust untreated.

An engine can burn up to 50 percent more fuel for a short trip in the winter than for the same trip in the summer so the fewer cold starts you make the better. Instead of several quick trips, combine all your errands into one run and select your route carefully. Chances are the engine will stay relatively warm while you are out of the vehicle (don't leave it running!), which will minimize fuel con-sumption and pollution levels when you restart it.

HARRIS, Gordon (Joe) passed away Nov. 22, 1996. There's not a day goes by That we don't think of you The memory of a certain song The memory of a certain song Or the things you'd say or do. You left your mark on earth By the people you have known And we pray we'll never forget The love that you have shown We can still see your calloused hands hands And the twinkle in your eyes For hard work and family

Are the two things you lived by
And we're grateful for the memories

For they help us keep you close And remind us love of one

OPP Report

A Marmora man was charged on November 20 after Centre Hastings OPP observed him driving a three wheel all terrain vehicle on Forsyth Street on the Vil-lage of Marmora.

The officer knew that this person was a prohibited driver and that there was warrants for his arrest on file. The officer at-tempted to stop the vehicle and the driver accelerated onto Cameron Street, Marmora attempting to evade the police cruiser

The short chase ended when the driver rolled the three wheeler onto its side. The driver was arrested for impaired operation and re-turned to the Madoc OPP office where he refused to provide samples of his breath as required by law. Richard Wayne Watters, 44, of Marmora is charged with Impaired Operation. Refuse Breathalyser Test. Dangerous Operation of a Motor Vehicle, Prohibited Driving and Failing to Stop for Police. A warrant of Prohibited Driving and Failing to Appear were also executed on Watters He was expected to appear in court on November

Craft Day is for children aged 4 to 10 and runs from 10:30 till noon. This month it falls on Saturday, November 27th. We are going to make decorations, some to take home and some to decorate our new Christmas tree! Come and hear a story or two and help decorate the library for Christmas. A small note concerning September's craft day: a white, heart shaped pil-low was left behind! We are holding it at the desk.

And finally we have begun reciprocal borrowing with Tweed Public Library. This is great news for everyone who lives outside of the Madoc Public Library district but comes to Madoc for school or work. People living in the village of Tweed, Elzevir Township or Hungerford Township can now borrow books from Madoc Public Library if they present their Tweed library card. You will need to show us proof of address the first time you come in, though. It works both ways too! People who live in our district and have a valid Madoc Library card can use it in Tweed. Stop by and browse. Our hours are Tuesday 3:30 to 7:30. Wednesday 1 to 5; Friday 10 to noon and 3:30 to 7:30; Saturday 10 to 1.

Letter to the Editor

The following letter in no way represents the thoughts, feelings or atti-tude of the Madoc Review. Dear Editor,

Thank you for covering a very important issue to me and my fellow neighbours. I would like to make further comments and explanations to the article which appeared in your pa-per on November 20th, 1999.

First, I would like to clarify that I am not blam-ing residents from Thomasburg or Fuller. What I said was the road is being used by non-residents of Douglas Road to access High-ways 62, 37 and even High-14 from the direction of Fuller. Thomasburg, Tweed, Ivanhoe and Tweed. Springbrook Second, I would like to explain that virtually only two people were talking from the committee, former RCMP officer Robinson and current OPP Sergeant Brooks. I was clear from the start of the meeting that their opinion of posting a speed limit on Douglas Road was a waste of time because the police don't have time to enforce the posting, and why bother because it was a local issue just concerning the Douglas Road residents. I find it irresponsible for police to disregard any law they are entrusted to enforce. I also do not understand the officer's point of view that laws do exist under careless driving to deal with the prob-lem. I find this point of view naive and lacking forethought. I would like to meet the lawver that would take on that case under the fol-

A family of four, plus the family dog, were walk-ing on the side of Douglas Road located at a severe blind spot in the road. A car travelling 60 kilometres per hour approaches the blind spot, sees the family and attempts to swerve while panic braking. The car's rear end breaks loose and the vehicle slides sideways into the family. Death and/or crippling injuries occur to

In the end the facts are the driver was driving 20 kilometres under the speed limit. The weather was perfect and the road conditions likewise, so there was no reason for the driver to reduce his speed due to weather related road condi-. No signage warned the driver of blind spots or any reason to reduce his speed. The driver was not familiar with the road as he did not travel it regularly.

In the end, the result is a tragedy: lives have been lost and/or changed forever. A driver has to live with that incident burned in his memory forever. Lawyers have sued in the civil courts going after the driver's insurance company and the driver's assets, the municipality's insurance company and possibly the police force. Why? Because all with the exception of the driver were made aware of the dangerous situation that existed on Douglas Road through complaints by the nts and even the municipality and bus companies in the past

Mr. Robinson asked me to put some thought into the problem. I have been thinking about this problem ever since I was almost run over by a Ford Aerostar four years ago. Mr. Robinson thinks peer group pressure will solve the problem, while stating that the people driving irresponsibly will ignore posted speed limits. If these people are the type that ignore the law then why is it logical to assume those same people will respond to peers'

There are numerous other roads in Centre Hastings that could produce this scenario. The real concern tax-pavers should be worried about is not the criminal courts but the civil courts findings to such an incident. The fall out to the aforementioned scenario would run in the millions of dollars and could bankrupt individuals involved.

And finally, there are the children. Currently on this 2.5 kilometre stretch of road at least thirteen public school aged children reside with twenty homes located on the road. These children have rights too. They will want to walk or ride their bikes to friends' homes along the road. If a council can justify a $300,000 culexpenditure for Douglas Road to cross Rawdon Creek, why can they not justify posting a road to safe speed limits and, in doing so, providing the police with the only viable tool to effectively do something about the problem? This action would further inform conciencious drivers who access the road for the first time that this road cannot be safely travelled at the current standard 80 kilometre per hour speed limit.

Centre Hastings and Huntingdon Ward councillors and their sub-committees seem to refuse to rec ognize the realities of the 21st century. The real coun-cil concern is not your child's safety but the cost that may occur to bring a posted road to provincial standards in the future Well, residents of Centre Hastings be prepared to get your cheque books out if the aforementioned scenario becomes a reality

Yes, I was upset. And for good reason. It is time for the residents of Centre Hastings to demand their representatives start finding reasons why rather than why not! And it is time the residents of Centre Hastings demand that these people entrusted with the community stop playing Russian roulette with their community's financial well being and, most importantly, our children's safety! I am asking all residents of the community to contact the mittee members to demand action. Our community's and our children's well being is worth it.

Robert Legate Centre Hastings Dear Editor ...

It was with great interest that I read the November 6th headline reporting the introduction of Enriched Enhancement programs into Madoc Public School Clearly the needs of all children cannot be met by one level of programming Clearly it is in the interest of everyone that the full potential of the next generation be unlocked and de-veloped. I heartily applaud an initiative that seeks to meet this need. It struck me, however, that these kinds of programs are not at all new. Sure enough, as I read on, I was informed that in the past students with special needs were met through a variety of special education programs covered by the school budget. Funding cuts however brought an end to these programs. Now the school council, parents, and the community are being called upon to meet the particular needs of our students on a volunteer basis because of "diminishing resources

Marc Lucas, the School Council's Communication Officer, tells us it is "the community's responsibility to educate the children and 'every parent has the right and responsibility to be involved in their child's education." The school council is calling for volunteers to offer their talents in music. drama, and woodworking programs that until recently were an integral part of the school curriculum in addition to being offered extracurricularly by teachers who routinely used their lunch hours and after school time to enrich to enrich the educational experience of our children. However, we are now told "The education system is not going to provide this, they don't have and teachers are the money being asked to do more with less Interesting. The current Ontario government continues to strip the provincial education budget while claiming to education. Removprove ing the funding that allows for programs such as that which the Madoe School Council is trying to rein state, would appear to be one such "improvement. According to the most recent indicators, this province is wealthier than it's ever been. And vet. some how our education system just doesn't have the money to provide a full range of educational opportunities to the children of this province. This strikes me as odd Where is all the money from this new prosperity going? Meanwhile, the fiscal responsibility for education is down loaded onto the parents of children who are in the system, through fundraising, through re-quirements to purchase materials, and through appeals such as that made by the Madoc Public School Council. This amounts to a user fee. Such a policy arthat public education benefits only of those who have children in the system. An interesting proposition is this: can you imagine a society where only the wealthy who can afford the extra costs of paying for it can offer their children quality education? Lucas calls on the commu-nity for volunteers to run a wood-working program for children whose self-confidence as learners can be enhanced by producing something with their hands Is it such a large step from here to a society where it is luck of the draw and the largesse of individu als with time on their hands and money in their pockets that a child might experience something beyond that which their own parents know and can offer in their spare time after work? Parents indeed should be involved in the education of their children Involving volunteers from the busi ness community in the school is a wonderful way to integrate the world of formative education with the community of which it is a part. Now, however, the community is called upon to do the work as volunteers that is required in order to provide for a child's education. This despite the fact that we still pay taxes to support the public institutions that sustain democratic society. The stripping away public funding for our public school system represents a gross denial of the commitment to democratic Continued on page 16

November is Family Violence Awareness Month

by Jaycee Wren

Myths and facts' about family/domestic violence Myth 1:

Abuse is only a momentary loss of temper.

Abuse is the establishment of control and fear in a relationship through violence and other forms of abuse. The abuser uses acts of violence and a series of behaviours, including intimidation, threat, psychological abuse, isolation, etc. to coerce and to control the other person. The violence may not happen often but remains as a hidden (and constant) terroriz-

mg factor. Myth 2:

Domestic violence only occurs in poor, urban areas.

Fact:

People of all cultures, races, occupations, income levels, and ages are abused by partners Myth 3:

Domestic violence is just a push, slap or push - it doesn't produce serious in-

Fact:

Abused women are often severely injured, most women who visit medical emergency rooms are there for injuries related to ongoing partner abuse.

Cycle of Abuse: Sam's story (fictional):

Samantha spent the night crying on the phone with her friend Jane Jane explained to her that his be-haviour was out of control and that Sam had to get out of the relationship as soon as possible. Jane gave her a phone number to a counsel-lor from the area that helped her sister when she was in an abusive marriage. Sam explained she could handle things on her own and that she wasn't in the relationship long enough to need counselling. Jane told Sam no matter what type of abuse or how long it happened she could go to the counsellor. they were there to help. Sam took it into consideration and decided maybe talking to someone who knew where she was coming from would be a good idea. The next morning as she was getting ready for work Brian howed up at her door step. He was holding a large box wrapped in red shiny paper. Sam answered the door and before she could say a word he swarmed her with apologies, but she didn't fall for them this time. She explained to him that she was a strong person and that she didn't need a relationship like this. She explained

she no longer wanted to see him. She walked back into her house feeling great. She was doing great and even though she was feeling good she picked up the phone and called the number that her friend had given her.

FAMILY DENTAL CENTRE MADOC ST. MARMORA . DENTAL CARE THAT'S RELATING AND FUN!

Continued from page 15 education. Providing for all children the opportunity to learn the skills necessary to making their best contribution to society is not an act of charity. It is an essential obligation which ensures the future of this province as a decent place to live. It is a responsibility which each citizen realizes through paying the taxes which are meant to fund public education.

Madoc Public School Council obviously recognizes the imperative of meeting the needs of all stu-dents through special education programs. In taking the initiative of substituting volunteer activity for publie funding to provide these programs this council sets foot on the slippery slope that leads to inequalities of charter schools, the privatisation of education, and the kind of Ontario where a financially privileged few will benefit from the best of opportunities, while the devil can take the rest.

In you want quality edu-cation for all children in Ontario, then it's time to stand up to Queen's Park and say so. Ontario is a prosperous community. We can afford to educate our chil-dren, all of them. Enough smoke screen about "educational reform" by a government which has already stripped the public educa-tion budget and is planning another $800 million in cuts. all in order to pad the pockets of the wealthy. Whatever happened to the demo-cratic idea that the goal of government is to provide the greatest good for the greatest number of people? Tell this government you want your tax dollars going into the classroom, into your schools, into your children, your grandchildren, the people who will grow up to run the world you will grow old in. Tell them we want our teachers, among the most highly qualified in the world, and very much in demand by other nations. working with our children. Volunteers are a wonderful thing - as volunteers, as an adjunct to existing pro-grams, not as the backbone of the system. Volunteer

effort cannot replace the professional commitment of trained and experienced people for whom the primary concern and sole responsibility every working day is the quality of each child's learning experience.

As for Mr. Lucas' call to parents and other people in this community: Yes. Contribute your volunteer energies. But don't become the unpaid replacements for the committed professionals this province can afford to hire to educate our children Write your MPP, and call Queen's Park. Send Mr. Harris the order forms for magazines and chocolate bars: Send him a bill for your time as a "volunteer" Tell him you want to see these programs supported in our schools, not more glossy brochures advertising well-equipped classrooms that do not exist in Ontario public schools relying on public funding. Protest the "revolution" which imposes a provincial funding formula that does not allow your School Board the money to run programs this community recognizes are essential to the education of our children.
